Dist. 36's hike, Dist. 34's restructure ballot issues

by GLORIA DAVIS

With the Nov. 3 election for seats on area school boards growing near, the proposed restructuring of Dist. 34 and the 50-cent tax rate increase referendum on the ballot at Grass Lake Grade School Dist. 36 will be taken into consideration by school district electors.

All of the candidates for the three open seats on the Antioch Grade School Board of Education have adopted a wait-and-see attitude towards restructuring of Dist. 34, saying that they will wait and consider the information on the pros and cons of restructuring now being gathered before they make a decision one way or another.

All the candidates for Grass Lake School Board interviewed will vote for the tax rate increase referendum "because the school needs the money." Several months ago the board voted to discontinue some programs at Grass Lake for financial reasons but the ire of the school district's electors had the board reinstating those programs.

There are four candidates for the three open seats on Dist. 34's Board.

Incumbent Gail Heath, 39, has been on the board since 1974 and has served in most of the officer's position since then.

She is married, has two children and is running for reelection because she "would like to see some of the projects the board has been working on and the goals it has set for the school, come to fruition."

No heat for repairs may close library

The roof repair on the Antioch Twp. Library is expected to start on Monday, Nov. 2, and is scheduled to take approximately four to five days to complete.

With the comfort of its patrons in mind, the library staff may close the library without warning during this time because the heat will be off while the repair work is being done.

Jacquelin Bonovitz, 36, is running for office for the first time. She lives in Lindenhurst, is married and has two children at Oakland Grade School.

She used to teach at Dist. 41, but is presently pursuing a masters in education at the National College of Education in Evanston.

She said, "As a homeowner, I have a sensitivity to the financial operations of our schools when over 50 percent of our real estate taxes go towards public education. As a parent, I have a strong dedication to seeing that our children get the best possible education and as a teacher, I want to implement the most effective ways to meet the students' need and to encourage them to reach their greatest potential."

Kathryn Oddson, 25, was born and raised in Antioch, going through its school system. She is in grad school at the Ill. College of Optometrics in Chicago and will be a doctor of optometry by May.

"I want to start my practice in Antioch and be involved in the community. Because of what happened to my brother while going through the school system, I would like to see changes made in programs for children who need special help," she said.

Fred Eichhorn, 49, a salesman, is married, has one child at the Antioch Upper Grade School and another in ACHS.

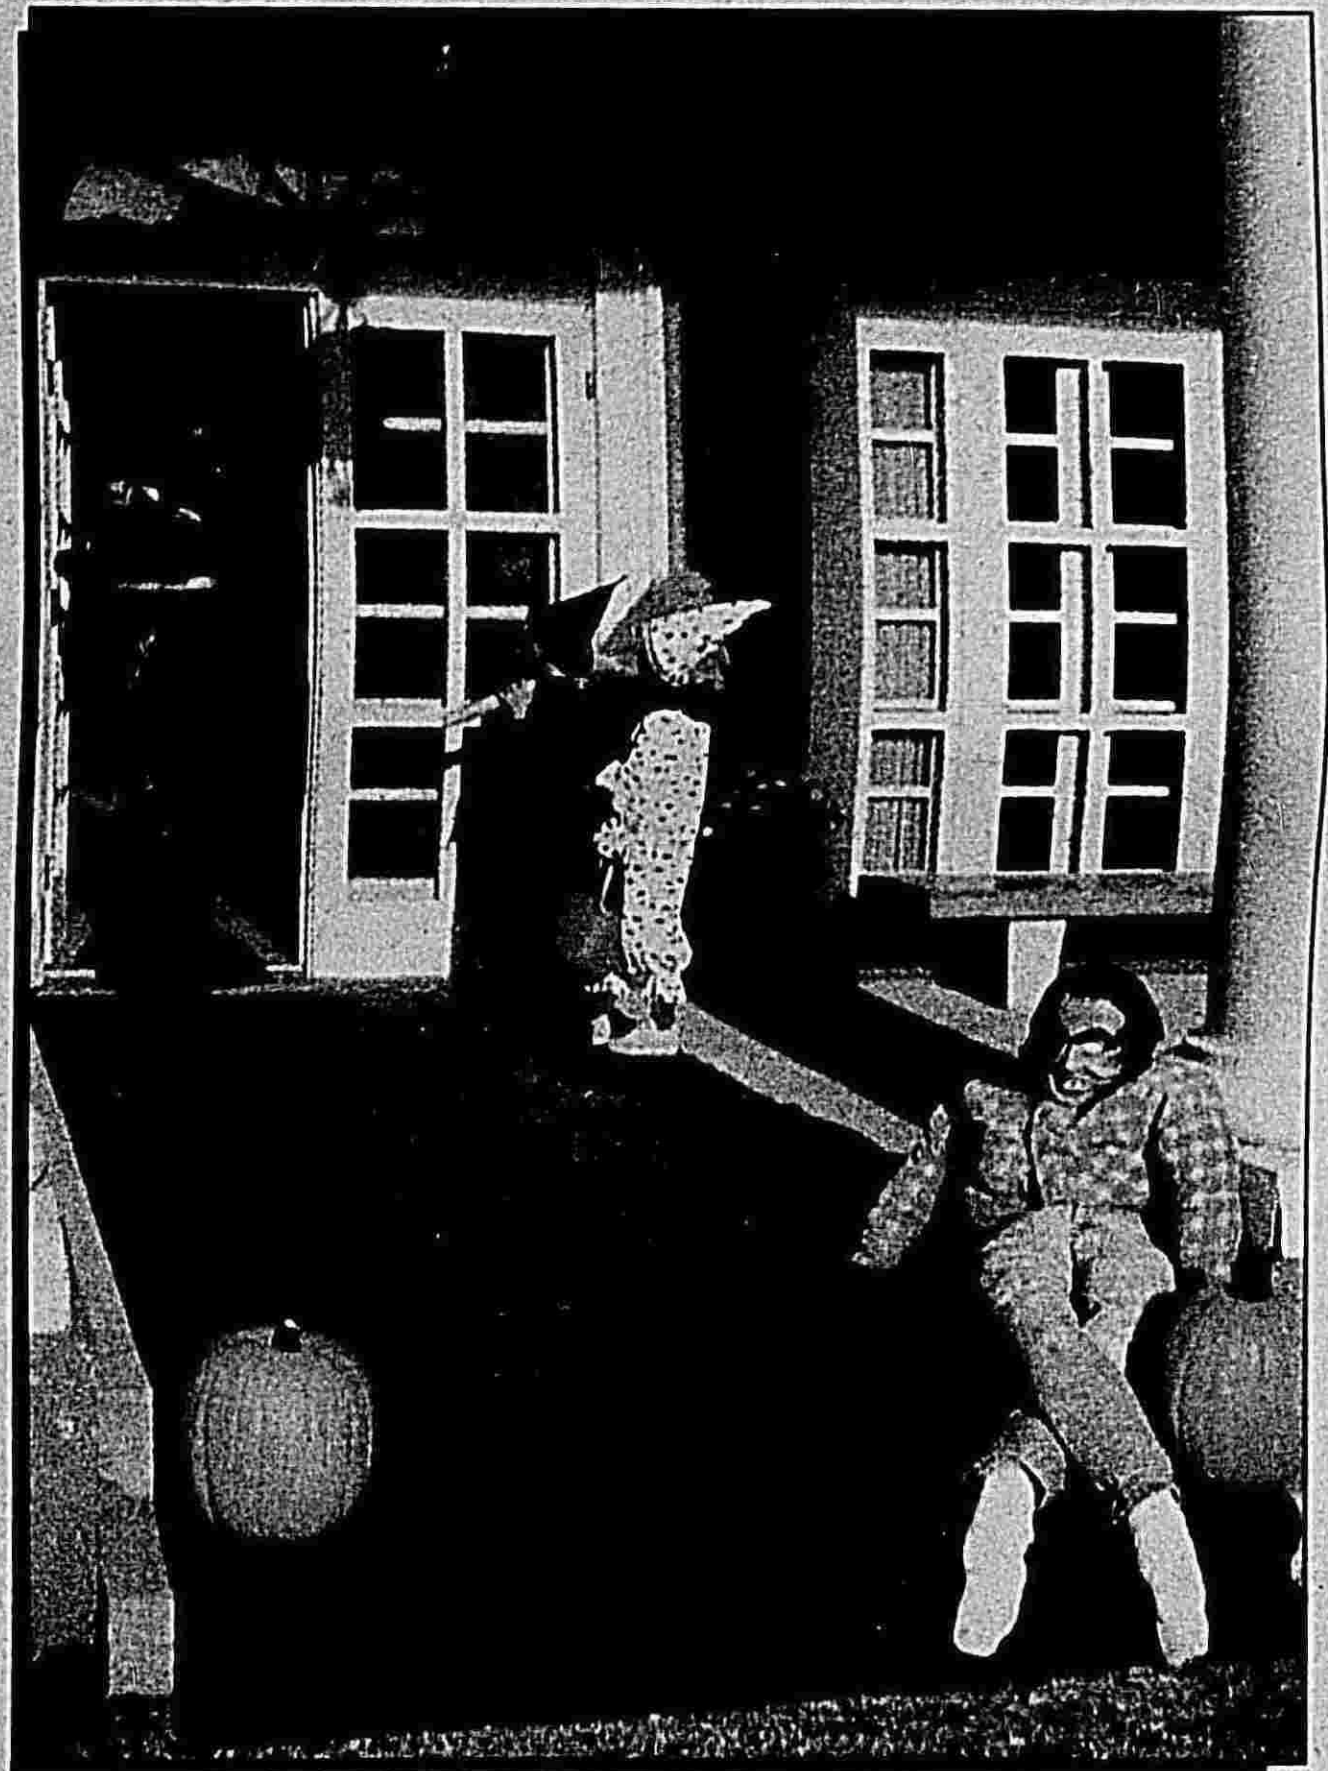

"We moved to Antioch because it has one of the best school systems around and I would like to help keep it that way," he said.

He adds, "Most people take more out of the community than they put in, I would like to put something back."

He has been active in the Iceless Hockey, Little League, Antioch Viking Football and Lindenhurst Soccer programs.

At Grass Lake Grade School, incumbents Ardeen Harris and John Steitz are running for reelection to two of the three open seats.

Harris has been on the board since 1983, she is married and has one child at Grass Lake and another at the high (Continued on Page 30)

44 students learn at Camp Timberlee

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Education of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34, Debe Dankel, chairman of the science department reported on the students' learning experience at Camp Timberlee.

She reported that an enthusiastic, cooperative group of 44 students assembled at AUGS bound for Camp Timber-Lee.

Their days at camp were filled with activities covering all academic areas.

Sunshine was an added bonus after last year's waterlogged experiences.

Science was the underlying theme as students studied food chains, recycling, energy transfer and adaptations.

Students improved their observational skills, measuring abilities and awareness of their senses.

Articles for the Camp Timber-Lee newspaper and a daily record of activities were written by each student.

Survival and a study of the past about

Indians were favorite activities. Construction of a teepee was begun.

Running daily and flashcard fitness were included to keep the students in shape. Skits, songs, haikus and art projects were some of the evening activities.

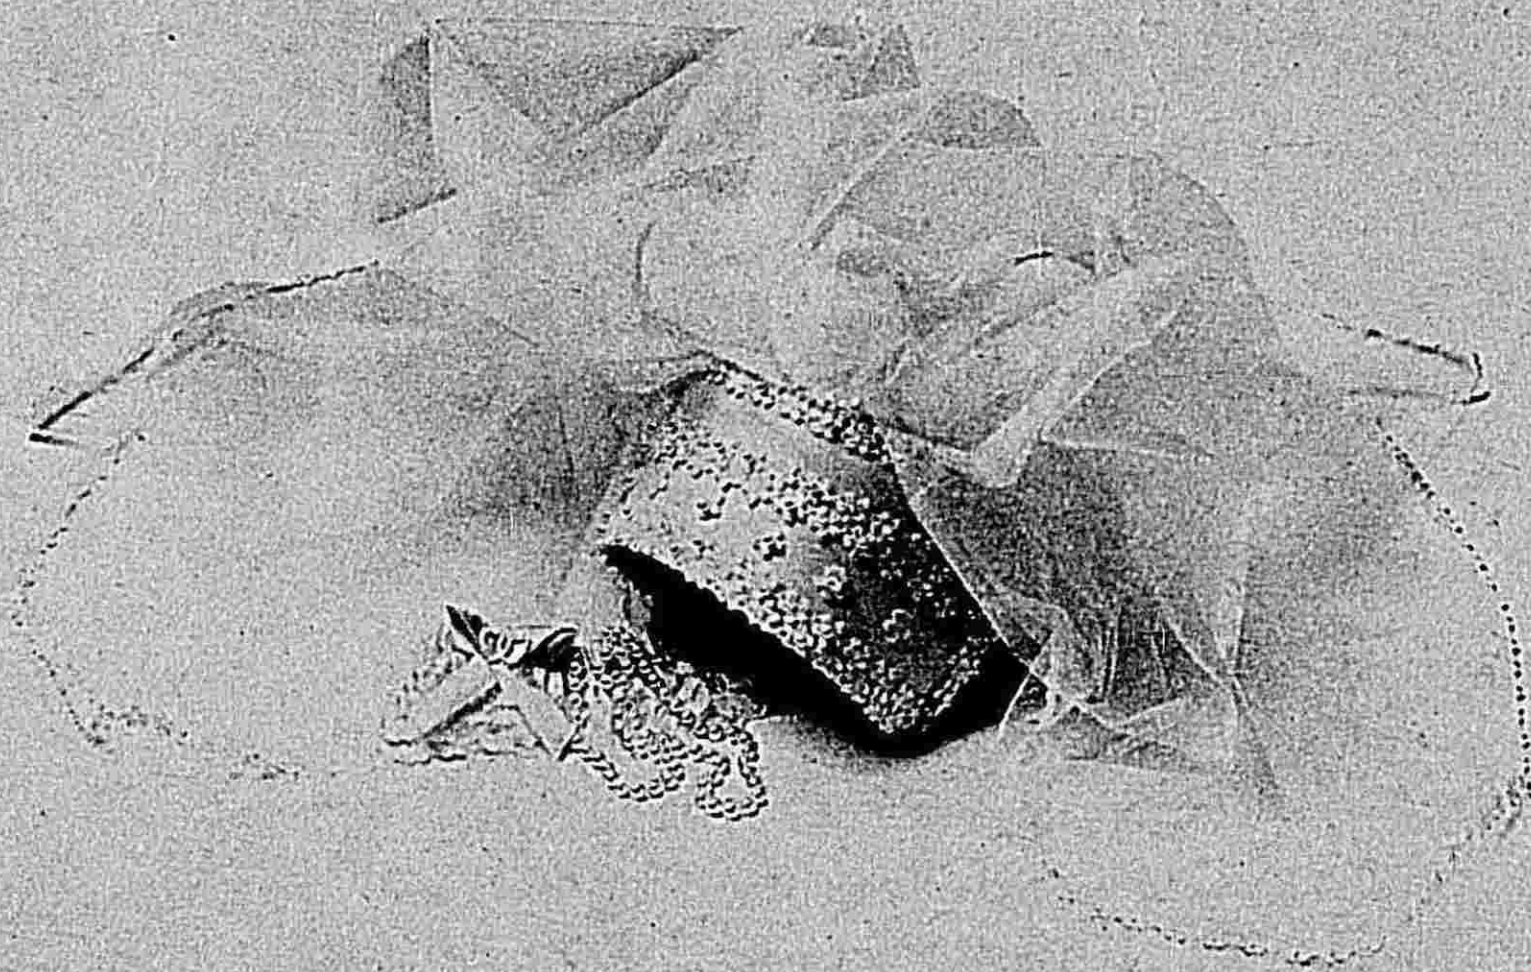

Throughout the entire experience, teamwork and group participation were stressed. The campfires and activities helped to develop a closeness between the teachers and students.

Neal announces plans to interview candidates

Robert P. Neal, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, has announced that the Executive Committee will interview candidates who plan to run in the Republican Primary Election in March of 1988.

The committee will interview all candidates who have announced their intention of running for the following offices: president (or their designate), U.S. House of Representatives, Illinois Senate and House of Representatives, County-wide Lake County offices, Lake County Board and Judges (if appropriate).

In announcing the interview program, Neal said that in previous elections the interview procedure has proven to be invaluable in letting the Party's committeemen know about the candidates who will be running in the primary, and that this year's program is expected to be equally important.

The interviews will be conducted by the Executive Committee of the Republican Central Committee, consisting of the Township chairmen, officers and members-at-large. The interview process will take place at the Northern Chalet on N. Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville on Nov. 7 and 14. All Republican committeemen and their active precinct workers are invited to attend the interview and meet the candidates. The press is also invited to these interview sessions.

Candidates who plan to run for Republican nomination for any office in next March's primary election may receive full information about the candidate interviews by contracting Republican Headquarters in Waukegan, (312)623-0235.

Wilton calls for objective village study

At the orders of the Antioch Village Board, a comprehensive study of the village is being undertaken by the village's economic development director, Don Davis, who is being aided by Todd Maplethorp, former head of the village's maintenance department.

The majority of the board voted to have the study done "in house," but one trustee, Robert Wilton, feels that the study should be done by an outside agency.

"I don't feel that anyone closely connected with the village can do an objective study like the one done back in the 1970s," said Wilton.

Parent coffee

The Parent/Principal coffee of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 will be held concurrently with the Parent Teacher conferences Monday, Nov. 2 and Tuesday, Nov. 3. Anyone wishing to gain more information regarding a child's educational program, can call the Upper Grade office before Monday, Nov. 2, for an appointment.

Campaign Against Toxic Waste plans canvass in Antioch

The Campaign Against Toxic Waste, the statewide environmental lobby will be canvassing from Oct. 29 to Nov. 29 in Antioch, gathering signatures and contributions to support their organizing and lobbying program. The Campaign Against Toxic Waste is a not-for-profit organization representing citizens on environmental issues before the state legislature and the U.S. Congress.

Legislation that the Campaign Against Toxic Waste has helped lobby through the Illinois legislature include: the Illinois Employee Toxic Substances Disclosure Act (the Worker Right-to-Know), Waste Oil Dumping Control Act (this information is used to prevent problems similar to those experienced in Times Beach, Mo.), and the Hazardous Waste Landfill Siting Act (providing greater community participation in the siting process for hazardous waste landfills).

At the federal level, the Campaign lobbied in conjunction with the National Campaign Against Toxic Hazards for the passage of the Superfund bill. On Oct. 28, 1986 the bill was signed into law by President Reagan allocating 9 billion dollars along with mandatory cleanup schedules, to take on the task of cleaning up the nation's priority list of 1,800 toxic waste sites.

Currently, the organization is working to pass S.B. 1244 Contaminated Industrial Sites: legislation to require operators of industrial facilities in Illinois to certify that their property is free of hazardous substance contamination, prior to sale of the property, or closure of the plant.

The Campaign Against Toxic Waste is a statewide coalition of over 130 community, farm, senior citizen, taxpayer and labor organizations with a combined membership of over 129,000 Illinois citizens, and has five offices from which it canvasses 450 Illinois towns.

Dist. 34 set to host several confabs for parents, teachers area. The conference will be held in four sessions, the first two sessions will be held Monday, Nov. 2, from 2:20 to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8:50 p.m.

The third and fourth sessions will be Tuesday, Nov. 3, from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. and from 12 to 3 p.m.

Parents are asked to carefully check the student report form for teacher requests for parent conferences. If they receive a request for conferences(s), call our office for an appointment no later than 3:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 30.

Those parents/guardians who do not receive a request for conference, but still wish to meet with a teacher may call for a conference at any time until Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Phone hours are Thursday and Friday, Oct. 29 and 30, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday, Nov. 2, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and 6:30 p.m. to 8:50 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 3, 8:30 a.m. to 10:50 a.m.

Do not send written appointment times back to us with the children as the school cannot guarantee filling that appointment due to prior parent commitments.

All conferences will be scheduled on a first phone call basis. The school phone number is (312) 395-1905.

When calling to make an appointment, have the name of the teacher who you wish to have a conference with.

Stoxen gets probation in DUI fatal

Michael Stoxen, 31, Salem, was sentenced to two and one-half years probation in a Lake County Court last week on a drunk driving charge in connection with a fatal accident caused by Stoxen in which Michael Gronniger, 46, Antioch died last December. The accident happened on Rte. 173, near Rte. 45, outside of Antioch.

Although the judge stated that he thought all those arrested for drunk driving should go to prison, Stoxen received probation because of an unblemished previous driving record.

He was also sentenced to serve 14 days in jail, four months in jail under the work release program, perform community service and given a $500 fine.

Letter To The Editor

Library referendum

Editor:

It ought to be a big election south of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line on Nov. 3. We expect many voters will show and cast their ballots. It will be big if enough people want a library building. Folks in the Nippersink Library District are vitally interested in the election. The District includes the townships of Richmond and Burton. Any citizen who is a registered voter and living within the library district can vote in this election. Many yes votes are going to be required in order to bring a new building to the district. The building is needed. If we get enough yes votes, we will be able to receive $250,000 in a state grant (not a loan, but a gift) to be used in building the library. It seems that we should be able to arrange our lives and our thinking to accept such a grant.

Yes, we can afford to build the Library building. We are a rich people. We have banks, savings and loans, industries, and farms that return income to the people of our district. No citizen can be damaged in a financial way by paying his share of costs of building a library building. And as soon as it is built, benefits begin returning to the people of our two townships. Valuable gains have come to all areas who own a library building.

We all can use and will continue to use the many services the library gives us. Our school children use the library. Many people who would like to use cannot climb the steep and dangerous stairs. Knowledge is dispensed and education is continued by the use of books from the library. Development and progress will be brought into our community and into our lives with a new library. If we want solid and bonafide progress, then we must pay the cost. A new library building is progress. By building a new library we are also preserving one of our greatest treasures- we are preserving the world's knowledge.

A library with it's great wealth deserves a good home. Should circumstances cause us to lose space in the old Memorial Hall from which we are now operating- and it could happen- that would be a calamity. I hope it doesn't happen on a rainy day. Thousands of books piled on the streets of Richmond? No, we can't have that happen. We need a new library building.

All the people in the communities of Richmond and Burton Townships are involved in the construction of a new library building. All benefit from having a new building in our library district. The library is asking you to come and vote yes. The building, if built, can serve the people of Richmond and Burton Townships for years to come. Just as our forefathers planned and looked into the future to give us what we now have, we must look down the road and plan for the future.

It seems right to me for our community to build the library and make us a complete community. Considering our situation, it looks to me like we should vote YES in a big way on Nov. 3.

Richmond, Spring Grove to vote on Library start

Residents of the Richmond and Spring Grove area of northeastern McHenry County will have a unique opportunity Nov. 3 to build a home for their library, the Nippersink District Public Library. No, they can't come out with brick and mortar, but they can do even better by approving two referendum issues for the library in the general election. The two issues will allow the district to construct, furnish, and maintain the library's permanent home.

A site has already been purchased on Hill Road, just west of Rte. 12. It is south of Richmond and northwest of Spring Grove and Solon Mills. It was recommended by the library's building consultant based on availability, price, soil, topography, accessibility, and it's more central location.

The library is in need of a permanent home. Since being established in 1973, the library has rented space at a nominal cost from the village of Richmond. But the library has outgrown the space, the village needs the main floor for village and police operations, and because the building is not accessible to the handicapped, state law will not allow the library's lease to be renewed beyond 1989.

Presently, the library collections are piled together in 2,200 sq.ft. of space, with much not easily reached by youngsters or the elderly. Washrooms and a program area are borrowed from the village.

The proposed new building, designed by David L. Jenkins and Assoc. of Rockford, would eliminate these problems and also provide room to grow. Proposed is a 9,000 sq. ft. library facility on the main floor, with a basement set aside for meeting space now and growth in the future. The building would allow the library to expand services for the elderly, youngsters, and other groups in the district. There would be room for programs such as a children's craft area, adult literacy, a learning exchange, tutoring, tax assistance, driver's license classes, McHenry County College Telecourses, other adult programming, and an area for displaying the work of local artists.

The site will allow ample room for parking. The building will be partially earth-sheltered to minimize utility and maintenance costs. The size of the building is required by state guidelines in order to provide access for all residents and to provide space for future expansion.

To be considered by voters Nov. 3 are a 20-year general obligation bond of $850,000 for construction and furnishings, and an eight cent per $100 assessed valuation increase in the maintenance tax rate. Although it is difficult to pinpoint exact costs of the project onto individual tax bills, the maximum cost, according to the library board's financial consultant, is a 3 percent increase on a property tax bill.

To ease the financial impact on taxpayers, the library has applied for a Build Illinois grant of $250,000. This grant was lost last spring when the building referendum lost by 48 votes, but since the Illinois State Library has already given high marks to the library's plans, state and local officials are optimistic that the project will receive funding. This could cut the $850,000 project by more than 29 percent. At the maximum, a homeowner with a $90,000 home could pay up to $75 per year. With the state grant, however, the library will not extend the full amount of the bond issue to taxpayers, and this figure could be lowered to $42. This will be the last chance for these library construction funds, so if the Nippersink Library is built in future years, there will be no state funding to defray costs.

The Friends of the Library have put together a fact sheet about the referendum that residents can pick up at the library. In addition, the library board will hold a public informational meeting at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 29, at the library. For further information, call (815) 678-4014.

Millburn seeks addition to battle enrollment growth

After a year of examining possibilities, the Millburn Dist. 24 Board of Education is asking voters to help meet the needs of an exploding enrollment.

Millburn is requesting that voters in the Nov. 3 election approve a $1.8 million school bond issue to add onto the present building on Millburn Rd. District residents wishing to learn more about the proposal may attend an opening meeting at Millburn School Oct. 27.

"We have a lot of young families moving in and that will mean more students in the district," Millburn Supt. Lee Smithey said.

If voters OK the addition, eight classrooms would be added. Also, a learning resource center, new band-chorus area and larger art room, a kindergarten room and multi-purpose room are features.

Smithey said that if the present building boom in the district continues, the enrollment would reach 550 by 1992. The district is presently nearing its capacity of 330 as 280 children are enrolled in the kindergarten through eighth grade district. Kindergarten-aged students has increased from 28 to 42 students compared to 1986. Overall, the district's enrollment has increased by 35 percent since 1985.

According to a flier distributed to parents and residents, the school needs to enlarge its facilities to: solve overcrowding problems; make provisions for continued growth and provide improved educational programs.

Smithey said most of the growth has come from new subdivisions in the Lindenhurst area. The district is almost all residential homes.

Planning for the referendum started when the district hired a consultant from the state board of education to prepare a study on Millburn.

"The district is in a large growth area of the county and is experiencing, and will experience in the future, considerable student enrollment increases," a booklet which states Millburn's case for an addition, said.

According to the booklet, there were 183 housing starts in 1985-86; 229 in 1986-87 and 280 for 1987-88.

Millburn's assessed valuation has increased in the last three years, but not at the rate of other portions of Lake County.

Smithey said the efforts to pass the referendum started when the board approved the establishing of a citizens' committee. The committee, thus far, has been talking with neighbors and district residents about the referendum.

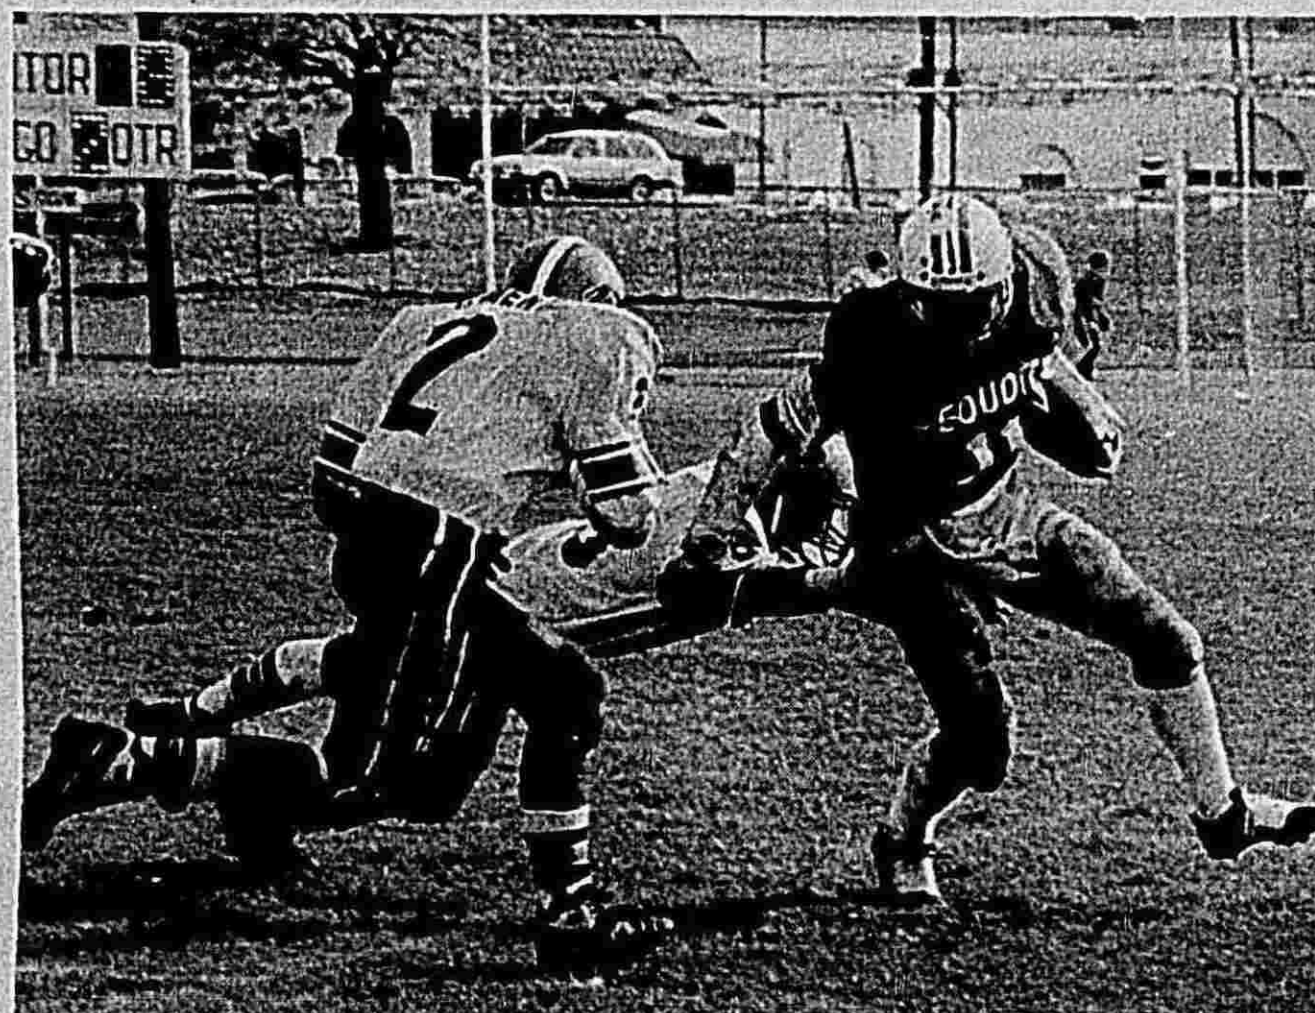

"The committee will become more active as the election draws near," Smithey said.

Students at Millburn live in Lindenhurst, Wadsworth and Lake Villa. They attend Antioch and Warren Twp. High Schools, but most attend Antioch.

Top ACHS Homecoming rates best in history

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312)395-6081

It was a good weekend! The rain, forecast to last all day Saturday, let up enough to allow the ACHS Homecoming Parade to proceed on schedule, and then the Sequoits were victorious, beating Fenton 32-20.

Parade Marshals Ward Lear and Robert Lindblad sure seemed to be enjoying themselves as they led the procession. It was one of the best Homecoming parades in Antioch's history.

Antiochans were treated to excellent performances of the school bands from Emmons, Antioch Lower Grades, Antioch Upper Grade, and Antioch Marching Sequoia Band and Flag Corps.

It was gratifying to see the participation of so many Antioch youngsters from high school football players, cheerleaders, pom pom squad, class floats, and language clubs on down to Viking football and cheerleading, Brownies, Cub Scouts, dancers, and girls' iceless hockey. Beauty queens, "Football Mothers," the classes of '52 and '67, and a Beauty "King" all added to the excitement! Congratulations to Larry Miller, Mr. ACHS of 1987. Wasn't that some crown on his head?

How did you like PM&L's cast from their up-and-coming "Pure As the Driven Snow" "mellerdrama?" And didn't Mike Warren make a good Indian chief in his floor-length headdress and blanket? All in all, it was a grand effort and a great suc-

Plan Lear party

On Nov. 13, a retirement party is being given in honor of Ward Lear who served Antioch Community High School as a teacher and athletic director for over 30 years.

The dinner will be held at Andre's Steak House in Richmond. The cost will be $15 per person which will include a family style dinner, dessert, entertainment and a gift for Lear.

All Lear's friends and acquaintances are invited to attend. If interested, contact Richard Brown or Pat Thamerus at Antioch High School before Nov. 1. The phone number is (312) 395-1421.

cess. In case you're wondering—the class of 1988 float of a bison roast won first prize in the float competition.

Special congratulations also are in order to 1987 Homecoming Queen Jill Hendricksen and King Jeremy Johnson.

This also was a big weekend for the graduating classes of 1952 and 1967, holding their 35th and 20th reunions respectively. The class of '67 made a weekend of it highlighted by a dinner for 130 with 68 classmates attending, including class sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Olsen.

The grand prize of a week's accommodations at Summitt Ridge, Breckenridge, Colo. was won by the 1966 Homecoming King Tyrone Walls. Congratulations!

Classmates came from as far away as California, Texas, Maryland and Florida. Jeff Pachey, Weeny Kuechenmeister, and Lee Craner all found out they lived in "spitting distance" from each other in California. Some classmates are staying the rest of the week in Antioch getting together to view videos of the parade and dinner and play golf.

Organizers of the reunion and helpers included: Don Yasz, Tim Osmond, Arnie Lubkeman, Dan White, Sandy Ludwig Schaeffer, Dale Collins Wells, Judy Furlan Smith, Toni Loma

Notes & News

Burke, Debbie Rzyko Burrell, and Penny Garrison Sheppard.

Such a nice time was had by all that they will start a chain-type Christmas card next March and plan to have a 25th reunion for sure!

The class of 1952 had a smaller group attending, but says Bob Wilton, "Some of the old boys are still pretty lively!" Festivities included a tailgate party, tour of the high school, dinner, and even dancing at Jukebox Saturday Night. Bill Clark and Aleeta Ring Osmond both came up from Florida, Gail Dettrich came from South Carolina, Ron Scully from Baltimore, and Jack Meyer from Merrill, Wis.

In other action this weekend... Standings for the Girls' Iceless Hockey Leagues are:

—First-second grade: Bruins, 5 wins, 0 losses, 1 tie; Kings 5-0-1; North Stars 4-2-0; Sabers 3-3-0;

Wings 2-3-2; Sabers 3-3-0; Maple Leafs 3-4-0; Blackhawks 2-4-1; and Whalers 0-5-1.

In the third through fifth grade Yellow Division: Red Wings 5-2-0; Penguins 4-1-1; Blackhawks 4-2-0; Whalers 4-3-0; Rangers 3-3-1; Islanders 2-4-0; Bruins 2-4-0; Flyers 0-5-1. the Antioch Vikings Heavyweight Team trounced Round Lake 26-0 to end their season in second place with a record of 5-1.

There was no scoring in this hard-fought game until the second quarter when quarterback Tom Lehn scored on a three-yard option after passes to running back Tim Lehn and fullback David Nolte brought the ball down field. Jason Ferris, wide receiver, scored the next touchdown after Lehn and Nolte again ran the ball well.

In the third quarter, the Vikings dominated with Tim Lehn picking up over 100 yards but they could not punch it in to score. Finally, in the fourth, Jeff Fogel, linebacker, intercepted a Round Lake pass and ran 18 yards for a touchdown.

"He would not be denied," said coach Nick Pappadakis. "He even carried a couple of Round Lake players into the end zone with him!" After that, Nolte made another touchdown, with Tom Lehn kicking in two points.

Honors for awesome offensive line play go to tackle Dan English, center Brian Smith, guard Scott Jones, and tackle David Remter.

Outstanding for defensive play were guard Mike Stahmer and guard Kris Green.

In other games, the Viking Lightweights lost 52-0 to first-place Round Lake.

In the Featherweight All-Star game, the Bearaids beat the Seagles 12-0 with both touchdowns made on interceptions by Jim Lubkeman and Jerry Grasser respectively.

Defensive honors for the Seagles go to Jason Breen, Kevin Denzel, Jim Stevens and Ed Lehner. Honors for the Bearaids include Lubkeman, Grasser, Rick Egan and Andy Biaggi.

The Heavyweight played their first playoff game against Fox Lake on Wednesday, Oct. 28. If they won, they will play next on Sunday, Nov. 1. Keep tuned... good luck, Vikings!!

Legislative inaction may stop child's play

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

A program which helps about 50 young Lake County children each year may only go for a half season this year. The program, Lekotek, is service of the Parent/Infant Center and is designed to aid children up to age three who have problems with their development.

Teri Lapping, coordinator of the Lekotek program and public relations liaison for the Parent/Infant Center says it will only take $12,000 to continue the program for a full year and that the state legislature can fund it in the veto session next week.

"Lekotek is a small part of our program, but it is a very special part," she said. "It is a library of special toys that parents of children can check out to continue with their therapy at home."

The Parent/Infant Center helps young children with all types of problems including Down's Syndrome, Spina Bifida, speech and language problems, and other developmental disorders. Over 300 children a year are served by the center's various programs.

Lapping said the Lekotek program has been particularly effective for children who need help but do not need to be with a therapist all the time. Lekotek allows the parent to act as the therapist and gives more time to the child.

She thinks Lekotek and the other programs of the Parent/Infant Center are a good bargain. "Intervention in the early years is effective in helping a child's development and, thus, cost effective," she said, noting that it is far more expensive to wait until a child is in school before catching a problem and correcting it.

She asks that people who are interested in child development write their legislators and ask that they fund Lekotek. But there isn't much time: legislators will consider what programs to fund at the end of the first week in November.

For information about the Parent/Infant Center and its programs, call (312) 816-3010.

Hooks Lumber sees clear future with window sales

The best just got better at Hooks Lumber. Hooks, located in Grayslake, was just awarded a wholesale distributorship with Marvin Windows. There are only three other Marvin Window distributorships in the Chicago Land area; the newest store to be handled by Hooks is in Libertyville.

Both Hooks and Marvin Windows pride themselves on being family run businesses. According to Tom Hook, the customer satisfaction and the relationship between buyer and seller is taken very seriously at the store.

"We know about 90 percent of the customers by their first names. It is a family run business, and a lot of the people that come into the store are not treated as customers. They are more like family," Tom said.

92-year old Everette Hook began working at the then Wilbur Lumber store, in 1919 as a manager. And he is still there six days a week from 5:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. working on accounts payable.

"John Hook, my father, took over the business in the 1970's. Hooks Lumber has lasted a long time. There used to be a lot of independent lumber stores in the area, but they have all gone under. I think there are only a couple of the left," Tom said.

Hooks has grown tremendously in sales and space throughout the last several years because of its "family attitude."

"You just don't find that in too many other stores. We cater to them as much as possible. We have the ability to go that extra mile for somebody," Jim said.

Now, with the added business, Hooks Lumber will be selling windows that rank along the names of Pella and Anderson windows.

Jim Frederick will be the manager of Marvin Windows at the new store.

"I think the best thing about Marvin Windows is that we can make a window any size you want. It seems that everyone wants more windows in the house. A window sure looks a lot more attractive than a wall. Windows in the front door are becoming more popular also," Frederick said.

One of the most attractive things about Marvin Windows is that they use wood in their designs, according to Frederick.

Crane recipient of highest ASC award

The highest award given by the American Security Council Foundation was presented to Rep. Philip Crane (R-12). The Congressman received the 1987 National Security Leadership Award at a ceremony on Capitol Hill attended by over 500 citizens from across the nation, as well as many of his colleagues.

The award was presented in recognition of the leading role he has taken on a wide variety of defense and foreign policy issues. In addition, he received an outstanding rating of 100 percent on the American Security Council's National Security Voting Index for the first session of the 100th Congress. The award was presented by senior leaders of the American Security Council (ASC), the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Reserve Officers Assn. and the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In making the presentation, ASC President John M. Fisher said, "Congressman Crane not only has an outstanding voting record, but he has been in the legislative forefront on a countless number of defense and policy issues.

CLEAR celebrates one year

CLEAR (Citizens of Lake County for Environmental Action Reform) celebrated its one year anniversary at its Oct. 29 public meeting at Libertyville Twp. Hall.

"We have accomplished quite a lot," said CLEAR board member Julio Abreu. "However, we still have a long way to go.

The guest speaker for the meeting will be Anne Aitchison, chairman of the Naperville Area Recycling Center. Aitchison, a member of IBRC (Illinois Board of Recycling Centers), supervises a highly regarded curbside recycling program that has served as a model for other DuPage County communities.

Franciscan Sisters to acquire St. Therese

Saint Therese Human Services Corp. and the Franciscan Sisters Health Care Corp. (FSHCC) announced that they have reached a tentative agreement for acquisition by FSHCC of Saint Therese Medical Center in Waukegan and the Saint Therese Area Trauma Satellite in Lake Villa. Terms of the proposed agreement were not disclosed.

The FSHCC, based in Mokena, is under the sponsorship of the Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart. It owns four acute care hospitals—Saint Anthony Hospital in Chicago, Saint Elizabeth Hospital in Danville, Saint Joseph Hospital in Elgin, and Saint Joseph Medical Center in Joliet—and other free-standing health care facilities in Illinois and Indiana. The announcement was made by Nora C. O'Malley, FACHE, president of the Saint Therese Health Care System, and Sister Dismas Janssen, OSF, chairman and president of FSHCC. Saint Therese Medical Center has been owned and operated by the Missionary Sisters Servants of the Holy Spirit, a Catholic religious order from Techny, since its opening in 1929. The Missionary Sisters also operate hospitals in Iowa and Maryland, neither of which is included in the agreement with FSHCC. O'Malley said that major goals of the Missionary Sisters were repayment of bonds, continued employment opportunities for Saint Therese staff, and fair remuneration for sisters who have devoted their lives to the institution. Final agreement on the acquisition is expected.

Vogel seeks regional board position as write-in

Woodland Dist. 50 Board of Education member Max Vogel is seeking a position on the Lake County Regional Board of School Trustees. Vogel is a write-in candidate. The other candidate is incumbent Patricia Lyons of Waukegan. Both are seeking two six-year terms.

"After being on the Woodland board for six years, I feel qualified for the regional board," Vogel said.

Vogel, if elected, will have to step down from the Woodland board.

Vogel, a Wildwood resident, said he would like to see the board be more visible to the public.

"The first time I knew of the board was the deannexation issue," Vogel said, referring to Arbor Vista's deannexation attempt.

"Nobody knows about what they do," he said.

Vogel said he is running for the board because no one on the board is from Warren Twp.

The First Annual

Tie Trade Through November 21st

Give us your insipid, meretricious, egregious old ties and we'll give you a $5.00 rebate on the purchase of any new, fashionable Jack's Four Squires tie. The offer applies for each tie you bring in.

Furthermore, your old tie will be entered in our UGLY TIE CONTEST.

All ties brought in for trade will be judged and the loudest, most absurd ties will be chosen as our winners.

First Place Winner will receive six new ties (one each month for six months).

Second Place Winner will receive four new ties (one each month for four months).

Third Place Winner will receive two new ties (one each month for two months).

Help keep Antioch beautiful by removing those ugly ties from circulation!

American dream
lives 81 years at The Globe

by KAREN WILTBERGER

American patriotism. That's what the success of The Globe department stores is built upon. Moreover, that's what has kept this Lake County family business alive for 81 years.

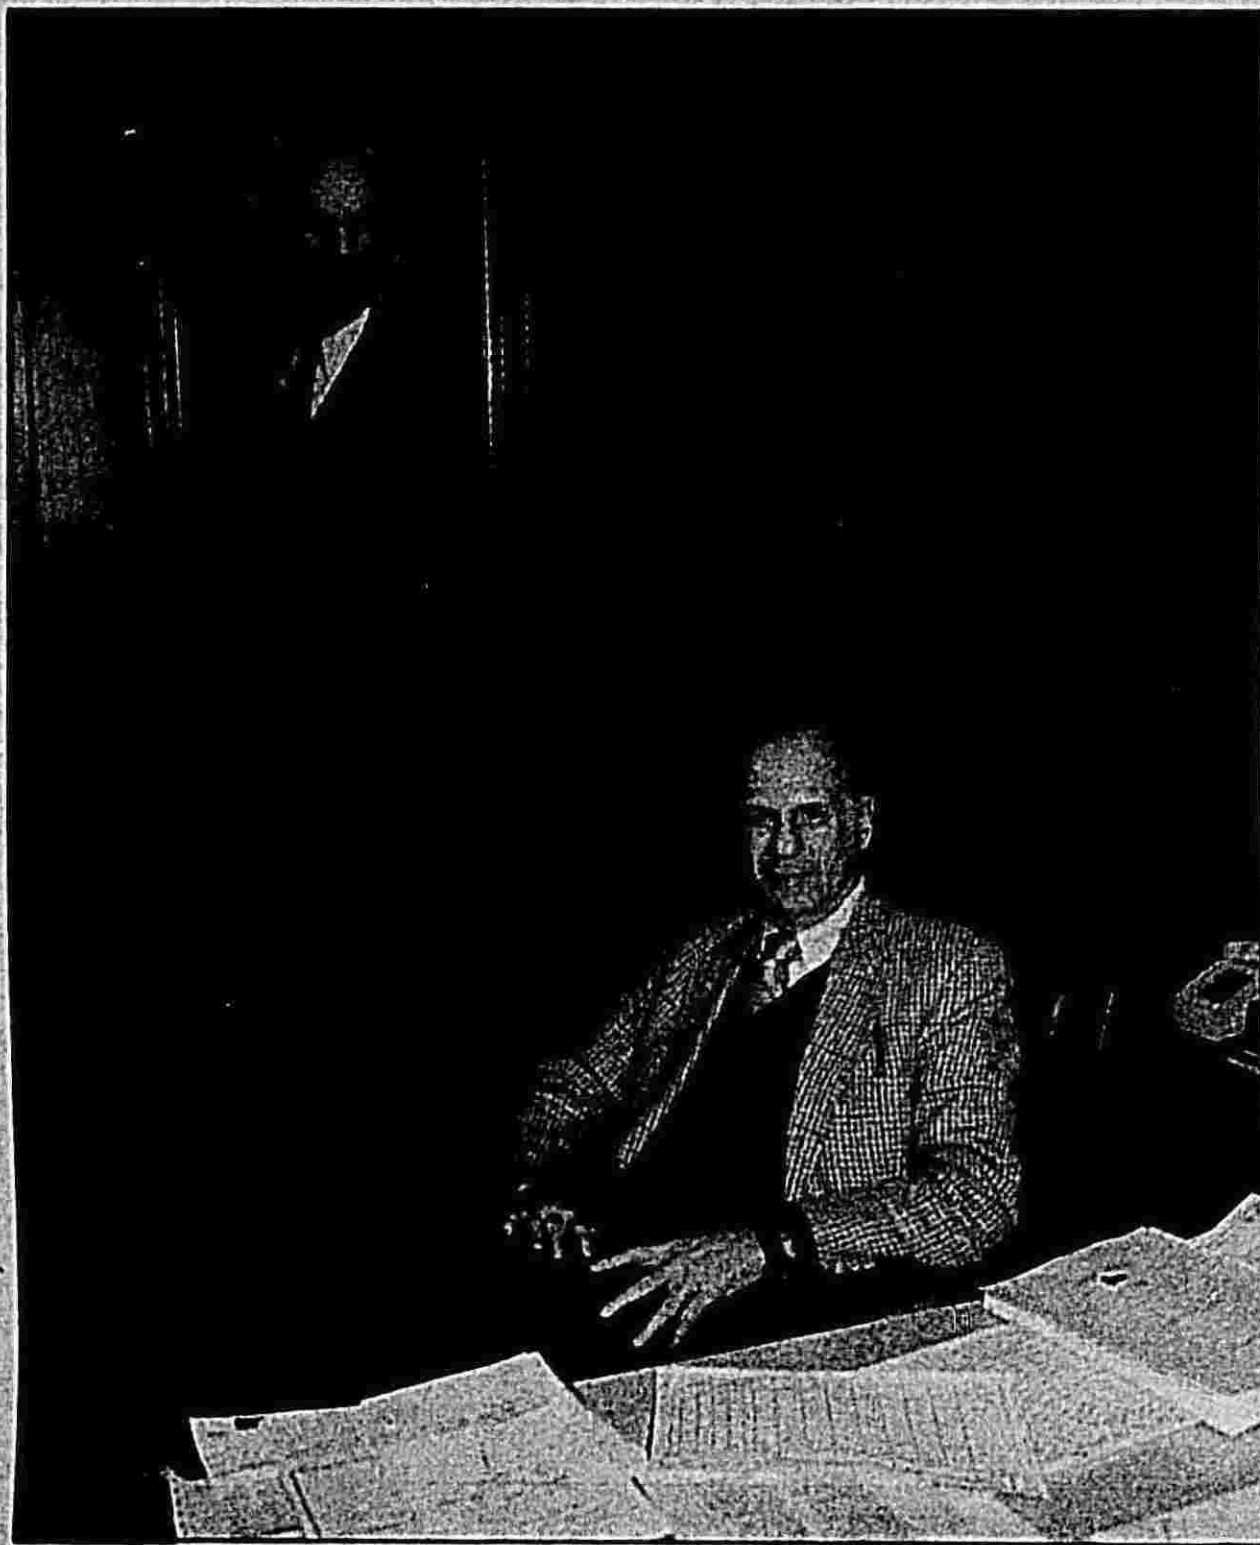

The story begins with Polish immigrant Charles Morrison who alone at the age of 15 arrived in New York. After a few years he walked westward with only a pack on his back. He started his first business delivering merchandise in Scranton, Penn.

He lived in Chicago for two years before finding his way to Waukegan where he opened the first Globe department store in 1906. The two-story store, located on the corner of Madison and Genessee streets, featured millinery (women's hats) and horse-and-buggy deliveries. A third floor was added 20 years later.

Bob Morrison, 66, remembers those days when he would operate the elevator in his father's store. "I did everything. I was just brought up in the business," said Morrison, who along with his brother took over The Globe after their father died in 1950. Today Bob Morrison is sole owner of three Globe department stores.

Morrison recalls how the store has changed over the years—from wire baskets to computers, from horse-drawn carts to delivery trucks. In the early 1900s, sales clerks would check out merchandise by sending the goods and the money in wire baskets across the ceiling of the main floor. That system was phased out by pneumatic tubes that would shoot merchandise and money to the third floor. Today, computers check out merchandise, keep inventory and manage accounts.

Morrison has also witnessed the changes in clothing styles, fabrics and colors.

Some things at The Globe, however, have remained quite the same—service and customers.

Morrison said the two most important ingredients of the family business's success will always be friendly service and integrity. "When I'm in the store, I try to meet the people, talk to them and help them," he said. And Morrison has plenty of chances to do just that. Six days a week from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. he juggles his office work with the Waukegan store (now on Lewis Ave.) and the Fox Lake and Antioch stores.

And when Morrison says his customers remain the same, he means it. Three and sometimes four generations of families are regular shoppers at The Globe.

Consumers should know recourse if insurance company won't pay

by GARY S. MEYERS

Most Americans buy insurance hoping never to use it. But when their cars are wrecked or their homes are burglarized, they expect their policies to cover the loss.

What happens if the insurance company refuses your claim, or it offers a sum far lower than the actual damage? In nine of 10 cases, people do nothing, although they can win if they employ the right tactics, said insurance litigation expert William M. Shernoff.

"They figure there is no use in fighting this $200 billion industry," said Shernoff, author of the book "Payment Refused" (Richardson & Steirman). "And that's a shame, because policyholders have strong rights under the law."

Insurance experts say that consumers' failure to substantiate their losses is the main reason why they are refused or short-changed on claims. Many homeowners find it difficult to accurately determine the value of stolen items or wrecked property because they don't keep accurate records.

Sometimes claimants underestimate the damage. Immediately after the event, in the rush to file a claim, it is not uncommon for a homeowner, for example, to value a $25,000 loss at only $10,000, insurance experts say.

Later, when a homeowner gets professional estimates for repair or replacement, he may learn his own valuation was too low. But he loses credibility if he tries to raise the estimate.

On the other hand, says Shernoff,

Ludwig Matthiesen, president of the Chicago Clock Co., celebrated his 80th birthday Oct. 18. Born in Lindholm, Germany on Oct. 18, 1907, Matthiesen immigrated to the United States in 1928 and worked as a baker for several years before opening his own yeast business in 1935.

A year later he married Caroline Utecht, daughter of Conrad Utecht, founder of the Chicago Clock Co.

Matthiesen's interest in and knowledge of clocks grew. After serving an apprenticeship he joined the company in 1950, becoming a vital part of the company's growth and eventually assuming his current position as its president. He is still active in the affairs of the company.

Matthiesen has been a resident of Round Lake Beach for the last 36 years. Under his leadership and that of his oldest son, Andrew, Chicago Clock Co. has become the area's oldest and largest clock repair and sales service with locations in Palatine, Oak Lawn, Glendale Heights and Clarendon Hills.

West Trails sales booming

Waldenstrom's West Trail single family home development on Grayslake's west side has been a huge success according to project developer, John Waldenstrom.

West Trail Unit I included 83 single family lots, with a main entrance on Rte. 120, approximately eight miles west of the Tri-State Tollway. All 83 lots have been sold since Grayslake approved the development plans in September, 1986. Developer Waldenstrom and his family were the first residents of Unit I and as of October 1987, approximately 60 homes are under construction in Unit I. The homes range in price from $145,000 to $210,000.

Development of West Trail Unit II is now underway. This unit, directly to the north of Unit I, is slated to include 93 lots, many extensively wooded, and will feature three large lakes for use by the homeowners surrounding them.

Insurance recourse

purposely overestimating or inflating a claim will annoy the claims adjuster and render payment more difficult.

"At worst, it could make you vulnerable to a criminal charge of fraud," he said. "An honest claim lays the foundation for future action, should the company refuse to settle."

One way to help determine the value of a loss and speed settlement of a claim is to provide the insurance company with a photographic record of your possessions. This is essential in establishing the value of antiques and family heirlooms.

But what can be done if an insurance company refuses to pay a lawful claim anyway? Shernoff says consumers should understand and use the following tactics:

-Put it in writing. Request a written explanation of why your claim was denied. Most states require the company to provide you with this. If the explanation cites some technicality, such as failure to file on time, the company is probably out of line. Even if you are months late in filing, your claim is still valid unless the company can show that its investigation was harmed by the delay.

-Beware of the corporate shuffle. Insurance firms are no friendlier than other corporations; the fewer claims they pay, the greater profit. They can be highly subjective-and sometimes ridiculous-in interpreting the policy's language.

"Because the company is responsible for the language of the policy, any ambiguity or fuzziness will work in favor of the policyholder" if it comes down to a lawsuit, said Robert Hunter, president of the National Insurance Consumer Organization in Alexandria, Va. "Court decisions are most often guided by the 'reasonable expectation' of the policyholder."

Also, don't be intimidated by fine print. If your claim was denied because of a fine-print "exclusion," take heart. Most courts have ruled that the company must prove that such exclusions were phrased clearly, plainly and conspicuously.

-Don't get short-changed on personal injury claims. Ask for a breakdown of medical expenses, lost earnings, and pain and suffering when the company offers a personal injury award. Then, Shernoff says, apply the "rule of three," which often is a good test of whether you're getting a fair shake.

That means that if your medical bills and lost salary total $10,000, multiply the total by three to calculate the value of pain and suffering. Your total settlement should equal the amount of the bills and lost salary, plus pain and suffering, or $40,000. If the company offers much less, press for a fairer settlement and prepare for a battle.

-Ask your insurance agent to intervene for you. "Insurance agents want to see valid claims paid, if only to keep their customers happy. A nudge to the home office may help grease the wheels," Shernoff said.

However, even if your agent is honest he may have little influence over some distant adjusters. If you're still not satisfied, take your case to the insurance company's top brass-first by telephone, then by mail.

The company may decide to pay your claim after hearing your side of the story. "But if the firm fails to respond to two letters, write a third letter that says you will start legal action within 30 days," Shernoff said.

Given the size of some recent court awards, this can work wonders. While you wait, keep a log and a copy of all communications.

-Contact your state's department of insurance. In some states, you might get somewhere by doing this, because these departments can be helpful consumer advocates. In others, though, they are understaffed or heavily influenced by insurance industry interests. In either case, state agencies do not have the authority to force a company to settle.

-Take the company to small claims court. You can represent yourself, and you will get quick results. However, this solution will work only for claims of $1,500 or less.

-If all else fails, hire a lawyer. To find someone experienced in this area of the law, contact your state or local trial lawyers' association or a consumer-advocate group.

Many attorneys will take insurance-claims cases on a contingency basis. That is, if you win your case, the lawyer keeps a portion of the award, usually one-third. If you lose, you pay nothing.

About 95 percent of insurance suits are eventually settled out of court. But extreme cases-in which a policyholder's attorney can demonstrate "bad faith" by the insurance company-can result in huge punitive awards.

The Globe

The Globe is a family fashion apparel store found only in Lake County. Anita Lapera, merchandise manager and buyer, compares it to Carson Pirie Scott, Marshall Fields or Lord and Taylor's on a smaller scale. All of these department stores offer quality-name merchandise, but Lapera claims The Globe sells items from $1 to $5 less.

Another feature of The Globe is that it caters to the lifestyles of Lake County. That includes a large selection of casual clothing for after hours in the Lakes region and collections for the busy career person. What works in metropolitan areas doesn't necessarily work in Lake County, she said. For example, large tote bags are almost a must for Chicagoans, but The Globe sold relatively few. The reason: people here drive and park to wherever they want to go and have little need to carry along extra clothing or shoes.

Lapera, who buys from a variety of manufacturers in New York and Chicago, carries clothing ranging from the junior-catered Guess to the more exclusive Pendleton. A large selection of accessories creates another facet of The Globe.

"What's so unique about today's fashion is that it's not so dictative as it was before. You can be your own person. You can put on what you feel comfortable with," said Lapera.

In each of the last 10 years, Morrison said, The Globe stores have increased their volumes by 5 percent. This comes despite the closing of the downtown Waukegan and Lakehurst stores. Morrison said if the right opportunity comes along, he will open another Globe store (in Lake County).

But for now he's happy with his hectic life overseeing three stores. He spends his extra time playing tennis and being with his family.

Morrison, married for 44 years himself, has three children who are married also. Five of them are lawyers and one a teacher. None are interested in someday taking over the business.

"At one stage of the game I thought I'd be lawyer, but I can't imagine doing anything else. I love this business," Morrison said.

And with a smile, he said, "Hopefully, one of my grandchildren will become interested."

Model railroads galore at open house

The Lake County Model Railroad Club presents its 15th annual Fall Open House on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 7 and 8 from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. at 107 S. Main St., Wauconda, one and one-half blocks north of Rte. 176 and Main St., rear entrance. Admission is free.

The club was founded in January of 1972 and has been in continuous operation since. Its open houses have drawn the attention of families and model railroad enthusiasts alike since the first open house that fall.

Past open houses have seen visitors not only from Wauconda and neighboring communities, but also from all of Illinois, southern Wisconsin, northern Indiana and even St. Louis, Mo.

Visitors will see three to five trains operating simultaneously over the club's main line which is over six scale miles long. Also switching and way freight operations will be in operation. Train movement is controlled by the dispatcher using a modified version of the Direct Traffic Control system, used by the Class 1 railroads.

There is a saying in model building, 'it's never finished.' That is certainly true of the Wauconda Central. Along with the new freight classification yard, a portion of the main line has recently been rerouted, an interchange yard is starting construction, and floor to ceiling scenery is planned. Also the contractors are busy as a whole new town is under construction.

It is difficult to estimate the amount of time and material that has been used to build the Wauconda Central, but the following is fairly accurate:

There is over 3,000 feet of nickel silver rail that has been hand spiked to the individual wood ties. Don't try counting the ties, however, there are over 75,000 of them. And don't try to pick the Wauconda Central up, either, it's a trifle heavy with the nearly one and one-half tons of plaster used for scenery. No one really knows how long it took to build this miniature empire, but latest estimates come in around 60,000 man hours.

As always, the club members are happy to discuss the techniques used to build the railroad and other models and cordially invite everyone to explore the Wauconda Central.

Zegler into tv art

The name "Allen Zegler" appears on tv on a regular basis listing his credits for the storyboard artist for the popular tv show, "Alf", and also for "Brave Star".

Zegler is a graduate of Antioch High School and a former student of Columbia University where he majored in film animation.

He left for California in May of 1984 to work for Hanna Barbera and Filmation. He is presently employed by DIK Studios where he is responsible for creation of characters; direction of cameras, and segments of storyboard presentation.

His name is listed with credits following the broadcast; and will be a name to watch in the future as this ambitious young man has plans for directing, writing, and producing.

Rock Tracks

Almost ten years ago to the day (October 20, 1987), a light plane carrying the members of one of the 1970's most influential bands crashed in Mississippi, killing singer and group leader Ronnie Van Zant and guitarist Steve Gaines. This event all but signaled the final collapse of Southern rock, one of the last true regional styles in rock 'n' roll. But wait! Lynyrd Skynyrd is back with a tour and a new album.

Still, getting everyone in the band to go along with the idea took some time. Ed King, who left the band years before the crash, was the last one to agree. King explained that the idea began with keyboardist Billy Powell and bassist Leon Wilkeson suggesting one gig for the 10th anniversary. But then they got to thinking how much rehearsal and organizing time would go into just one night, so they thought about doing five or six, which turned into 30 or 40.

Unfortunately, not all the surviving members were able to rejoin. Guitarist and founding member Allen Collins was involved in a car accident nearly two years ago which left him with pain and some paralysis. The band still sounds the same (with Ed King and Johnnie Van Zant), but there is something missing without Allen and Ron up there on-stage.

Their new album, Legend, which was released last month, features B-sides and outtakes from previous Skynyrd LP's and material from MCA's archives. With the exception of one track, all songs feature the vocals of the late Ronnie Van Zant, and others feature guitar work and vocals from the late Steve Gaines. All songs for Legend have been overdubbed and/or remixed.

At this point in time, the tour (winding up in New Orleans on October 31), is all that's planned. "This band essentially has no future," Ed King explains. "Just a great past."

The Liberty-Fremont Concert Society will present the dynamic

Chicago pianist, Carol Honigberg, on its series opener Sunday afternoon

Nov. 15 at 4 p.m. The concert will be a two-fold thrill, since it will be on the College of Lake County's brand new Steinway Concert Grand piano, nine feet of tonal wonder on the new auditorium stage of the Grayslake campus.

Honigberg is internationally acclaimed for her dynamic technique, artistic flair, and lyrical sensitivity.

She is regularly featured on broadcasts over major European networks as well as Chicago's nationally syndicated station WFMT.

Her program on Nov. 15 will include Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" for solo piano, arranged by the composer. Other music to be performed by Honigberg will be by Schubert, Liszt, and Debussy.

Tickets at the door are $8 for adults, $6 for senior citizens and students.

Medical center's 'Gala' set for Country Squire

Once again, the Auxiliary to Northern Illinois Medical Center sponsors its classic autumn dinner dance with Gala '87. Honorary co-chairmen are Thomas Bolger of McHenry State Bank and Parmod Narang, M.D., of the NIMC medical/dental staff.

The glittering event takes place in the Grand Ballroom at the Country Squire in Grayslake. Like its predecessors, a superb menu, splendid orchestra and the 18th century decor make Gala '87 a major social event to launch the holiday season. Saturday, Nov. 7, is the date for the enchanted evening.

Sparkling gowns and "black tie optional" create a festive atmosphere for the Gala. Dancing this year is to the music of the famed Brass and Keys Orchestra.

Said Kathy Ladd, chairman of the Gala '87 Committee, "We want this evening to be as special as the purpose of this fundraiser." Proceeds from Gala '87 will benefit the Patient Transportation Fund.

The Gala is an annual fundraising event in a series of programs and projects sponsored by the auxiliary to NIMC in its efforts to enhance hospital services. In February of this year, the auxiliary presented NIMC with a check for $50,000 as a result of its proceeds from 1986.

Gala '87 Committee members are Mrs. Jeffrey Ladd, chairman; Jane Althoff, Mrs. James Althoff, Mrs. Robert Blazier, Mrs. Troy Ferguson, Ms. Judith Irwin, and Mrs. Donald Udstuen.

Tickets are $50 per person. For reservations, call the auxiliary office at NIMC, (815) 344-5927, ext. 3202.

Soap opera star to play Emily Dickinson

New York actress Natalie Ross of the "All My Children" cast will bring Emily Dickinson to life onstage at the College of Lake County in "The Belle of Amherst" on Saturday, Nov. 7 at 8 p.m.

Ross, known as Enid Nelson on the ABC daytime drama, will portray America's foremost women poet in William Luce's prize-winning play in the CLC Auditorium at the main campus in Grayslake.

Interweaving her poems and charming, candid letters with flashback sequences, the play ushers the audience inside Dickinson's private world in her family's home in Amherst, Mass.

As "Miss Emily" shares the major events of her life and the thoughts and poetry of her heart, she unfolds the story of her eccentric existence and love affair with language.

Ross, a professional actress since 1957, has appeared around the country in summer stock and regional theatres. She has performed "The Belle of Amherst" for colleges, schools and community groups for more than seven years.

Admission to the production is $6 for the general public and $3 for CLC students, staff and alumni. For more information about "The Belle of Amherst," call the Activities Office at (312) 223-6601, ext. 300. The event is co-sponsored by student activities and the Glass Dictionary, the CLC literary arts club.

This year there will be 10 exciting rooms on entertainment, including the casino, "Full House". The casino (CG-17) will include poker, blackjack, over and under and the "big 6". The casino will be open Saturday nights only for patron's enjoyment.

As always, the gourmet restaurant, "Chez Paree" will offer tasty meals. Everyone will have their choice of three tantalizing entrees: Fish Almondine, Chicken Chez Paree and Mostaccoli ala Julianna.

Entertainment will be furnished by St. Peter's Jack Boarini, Florence Baabusek, Randy and Jane Miles, just to name a few. They will be giving their own special version of melodies from the "Big Band" era. Chez Paree will also be serving breakfast into the early morning hours, for late night partiers.

Don't miss the "solid gold" performance of "Grease" in their bally-hoo of great music from the '50's and '60's in "A Moment to Remember, the Prom You Missed".

Joining in with "Grease" will be some favorite groups, "Smile" and "Crystal Moon", to set everyone's feet in motion throughout the evening.

Post vacation blues- how to handle them

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel, Inc.

It's Monday morning and you're back to work. Only yesterday you were laying on the beach in Hawaii. You should feel relaxed, refreshed and ready to go back to work. Instead you feel sort of blah. You're not only tired, but unable to concentrate. It may be jetlag, but most likely you have a case of "post-vacation depression."

Post-vacation depression is brought on by both physical and psychological factors. Each must be understood and dealt with if we are to return to work with a clear mind. (Actually, I think we should all just remain on vacation, but I guess that's not practical).

The physical factors which contribute to this depression are not, in most cases, the late nights of partying while on vacation, but just the opposite. Most people get more sleep than they normally get at home. They usually get more exercise. I know I find myself taking the car the two blocks to the post office at home, but I'll walk miles exploring a foreign city.

You'll find yourself eating better on vacation. At home if I can't microwave it, I don't eat it. Yet on vacation I've eaten in the finest restaurants in the world.

So why doesn't our body feel refreshed after all that good treatment? Your mind has told your body it's home again and get ready for that poor food, 12-hour work days and five hours of sleep!

The psychological factors are usually that you've had a chance to get away from your structured, predictable day and experience the uncertainty and excitement a vacation brings. Now it's back to the same old routine. What can you do to ease back into the work schedule?

-Come back a day early. Read your mail, pay your bills, do laundry.

-Schedule at least one fun thing to do the week after your vacation.

-Continue the physical exercise you started on your vacation.

-Don't try to catch up on all your work the first day back. It will only heighten any depression.

If your depression lasts, turn it into something positive. Learn from what made you feel good on your vacation. Relax more. Get more exercise. Be more spontaneous. Eat better. Have more fun. We take a vacation to have fun, there is no reason we can't carry that into our work lives.

Berliant, Block deserving

Although school board races are traditionally low-key, there are a lot of good reasons for citizens to get out and vote Tuesday, Nov. 3. Many people are unaware that schools account for the bulk of their property taxes.

Many communities in our area have uncontested races locally, but others have referenda and, in a few cases, hot contests for school board seats.

One race will be on every ballot in Lake County: that for trustees of the College of Lake County. Two incumbents, Millicent Berliant and Nancy Block, are being challenged by Duane Barcena. Berliant and Block have held their seats during a time when CLC has been recognized as one of the best community colleges in the state. During their watch, CLC has not been involved in controversy; it has simply done its job in providing for the community's needs in higher education.

Barcena, on the other hand, seems more inclined to fight his battle in the courts than in the campaign. His attempt to remove Block's name from the ballot has failed twice but he continues to appeal. Meantime, his phone is unlisted and he has made no public statement on what he believes the future course of CLC should be. Had he shown half the enthusiasm for educational issues as he has for legal maneuvering, he might be a credible candidate.

Berliant and Block deserve a solid vote of confidence on Tuesday, Nov. 3. Make sure to get out and vote. It is your tax dollars that are at stake.

The maturing of RTA

Today's Regional Transportation Authority is a much different agency than it was five years ago, or even 10 years ago. METRA commuter trains running with regularity and the familiar sight of PACE buses traveling to and fro, albeit with minimal passenger usage at certain times of the day, belies the dramatic transformation of the bureau that in its infancy was basically a patronage arm of the Cook County Democratic Central Committee.

Call it the result of a maturation process, but the RTA as presently constituted is a quality public agency with a firm vision of the future, a high-grade professional staff and the determination to be involved in all facets of transportation.

As Executive Director Theodore G. Weigle, Jr. puts it repeatedly, "RTA aims to be part of the solution, not the problem." This is a far cry from early RTA days, when Chairman Milton Pikarsky took his marching orders from the late Mayor Daley and humbled his nose at the suburbs.

Expansion of the RTA board to 13 members with a resulting shift to power to an eight-to-five majority in favor of the suburbs without a doubt provided the impetus for the RTA's change of character and direction. With the continued out-migration from the central city, the "action" and the needs are in the suburbs and it was only fair that the collar counties hold a majority.

Making sure that the trains arrive and depart from Fox Lake, for example, is only part of the job RTA is doing these days. Directors and staff also are concerned with such things as the explosive office and commercial development in south Lake County that threatens to turn Lake-Cook and Rte. 60 corridors into the nightmarish automobile traffic gridlocks of north-west Cook County in the vicinity of Schaumburg. At a two-day conference Oct. 29 and 30 at Marriott's Lincolnshire, RTA hopes to highlight the fact, among other topics, that serving the transportation needs of these two corridors by private auto is the pathway to crisis; that public transportation has to be introduced in some form to avoid chaos.

Lake County needs a mobility plan, according to Weigle. One solution offered is the establishment of a station at the intersection of Milwaukee Ave. and Lake-Cook Rd. to tie together private cars, buses, shuttles and commuter train links. RTA officials are calling for a total blending of the political-land planning-development process to synthesize a workable transportation system. Weigle is sensitive to the problem of "reverse commuting," providing for the needs of inner city residents getting to jobs in the suburbs. This is the type of far-reaching thinking, in our opinion, that will pay dividends in the future.

The RTA board, including Lake County's representative, Sidney Danoff of Waukegan, oversees $13.5 billion in total assets, making it the second largest business enterprise in the Chicago metropolitan area, second only to Amoco. RTA has the resources and economic muscle, if used properly, to provide a cohesive transportation plan and fulfill its mission. In our opinion, RTA is on the right track.

Letters To The Editor

Politician's defender

Editor:

Now that television is spending more time on the upcoming elections, viewers are indulging in a passing interest in the spectator sport we know as democracy. As always, some politicians publicly decry and others privately rejoice, at the lack of participation by the potential electorate.

As a committeeman, I hear two excuses for not being involved in politics:

"I have no control over the choice of players and my team always loses." I call this the Die Hard Cub Fan excuse.

"Political organizations are dirty." People seem to ignore the fact that every human institution and organization on the face of the earth is run by politics. The motives run from selfish to selfless, but the every day workways are political.

Politics are the exercise of power in human affairs. There is a refreshing honesty and openness among the public figures of political workers that I've been associated with because they admit upfront that they are politicians. They don't pretend to be something else. And if they did, the media quickly helps them regain their perspective.

Every police station is a little like Hill Street station and every hospital is a bit like St. Elsewhere. Yet there are still people willing to remain as policemen or doctors as long as they know that they are doing more good than harm.

Also, they have earned the right to complain about the sorry state of the world.

Public business looks different in public

by BILL SCHROEDER

There's a nifty law on the books in Illinois that guarantees that public business is public. It's called the Illinois Open Meetings Act. It's good, but it's not perfect, probably because it provides for three major exceptions-- personnel, land acquisition and litigation--meaning that these are the only times an elective body can go behind closed doors legally to conduct public business.

Members of the press love the Open Meetings Act because it helps us do our job better. Because they are human and subject to the frailties of human beings, a great many elective officials would like to transact your business away from the prying eyes of interested citizens and reporters. So the Open Meetings Act guards against secrecy. Members of the news media also love the Open Meetings Act because it provides a never-ending stream of gyrations and surprises over the way public officials deal with the law.

A few weeks ago, for example, members of the Fox Lake Elementary School board went behind closed doors to deal with an especially nasty matter: a school principal charged with mistreatment of students. It was a classic Open Meetings Act case. School board members discussed the personnel problem in executive session and then returned to an open meeting to announce action taken as the law provides. Board members acted completely legal, but reacted to how their decision was received by the public and press in unexpected fashion. Almost to a man and woman, board members viewed public reports as unfair, inaccurate and damaging to the reputation of the school principal (see letter to the editor elsewhere on this page). The reporters didn't make the decision. The board did. The reporters reported. It was the board members viewing their decision to issue a letter of reprimand to the principal as unfair, inaccurate and damaging. Amazing. But that's the way the Open Meetings Act goes. Apparently, public business looks different in public.

Watching the Open Meetings Act function is fascinating. Join with me in talking about it again in the near future.

ALL SMILES--Warren Twp. Assessor Gordon Washburn was all smiles at the official opening of the new Gurnee branch of 1st National Bank of Waukegan. "This is a beautiful building and it's all in Warren Township," Washburn noted. Washburn had another reason for being interested in the impressive structure. The new bank branch on Delaney Rd. is located on once farmed by his grandparents.

NEW MAN--Mike Sopko, whose family ran supermarkets at Mundelein, Round Lake Park and Island Lake years ago, is feeling like a new man because he has a new heart. Mike, 66, became the 101st heart transplant at Loyola Medical Center, Chicago, when the heart of a 28-year-old man was transplanted on Oct. 16.

Mike had been in critical condition since July 25 when he suffered a massive heart attack. At one point he received heart shock treatments 70 times within a 14 hour span as doctors fought to keep him alive until a donor could be located. Sopko, who in recent years has operated a pesticide business with his son-in-law, is doing fine and looking forward to returning to his home in Long Lake, probably within about a month.

Sopko is one of the oldest persons in the nation to receive a heart transplant. Loyola officials are checking to see if he is the oldest. He also is the second Lake County resident to receive a heart transplant. By coincidence, both transplants are residents of the Fox Lake-Ingleside area.

One of the things Mike and his family have decided to do when he is up and around again is spread the word of the importance of the organ donor program. Eight families benefited from the young man who supplied Sopko's heart.

Using the innocent

Editor:

Imagine my surprise when I found out Lakehurst Shopping Center was distributing boxes for UNICEF.

UNICEF works closely with International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF). IPPF is the most anti-child organization in the world.

I cannot believe innocent children should be used to promote and support an international group's agenda that does not value life but seeks only the means to destroy it.

Offensive article

Editor:

You published an article which contained many half truths and completely lacked any explanation to the public of how a Board of Education is required by law to deal with "personnel matters" in your headline article. It is sad that you can attack a man's 15 year career and impinge the honor of the Board of Education of Dist. 114 (Fox Lake Grade School) without any substantiation to the allegations you comment on in the paper.

Many have told me you will just "trash" this letter (as you have your newspaper) and you will tell me that "headlines sell newspapers". I've always been the kind of person who reserves judgment until I have been personally offended by someone. As a member of the Board of Education of Dist. 114 I can now say that you and your publishing tactics have personally offended me.

Confusing cartoon

Editor:

I am writing in regard to an editorial cartoon published in the Oct. 9 edition. It portrayed four stages of man: Java Man, Cromagnon Man, Modern Man, and AIDS Man, the last drawn as a skeleton.

I have difficulty discerning your editorial stance on AIDS from this cartoon. Is this a portrayal of a foredoomed mankind? Or does this attempt to highlight one of many possible futures? Is it to strike fear in our hearts and make us shun those with AIDS? Or does it attempt to call us to positive social action to prevent this gloomy outcome? Could the intent be (Continued on Page 28)

Letters To The Editor

merely to show the destiny of those who have already contracted or may contract the illness? The cartoonist's meaning of "AIDS Man" is vague, but clearly the outlook is not a good one. Does the editor agree?

There is no political or social humor in disease, be it cancer, MS, diabetes, AIDS or any other illness. For those people having had direct contact with persons with AIDS, this poignant, threatening drawing lacks humor and taste. I am almost certain the thousands upon thousands of parents, spouses and children who have lost loved ones to this devastating disease would agree with me.

Perhaps a more appropriate cartoon would have been a street dated 1985 lined with warning signs about AIDS, its inevitable spread outside of "high risk" groups, and the need for immediate medical research, and the Reagan Administration walking down that street with blinders on.

Expanding suburbia

Editor:

Words fail me. I cannot find any that can convey my emotions and thoughts regarding Chicago's mayor, Harold Washington, and his plan to tax "suburbanites" if they work in the city.

Currently, I work for a construction company that has its office in Chicago. Much of its work is outside Chicago, such as the natural gas pipeline we are doing in Mundelein. Would all employees of the company be forced to pay that tax, or just the ones who worked in Chicago? What if that employee, in one work week, worked one day in Chicago, and the rest of the week in the "Burbs"?

Living in Northern Lake County, can we really be called "suburbanites"? Is Round Lake Beach "suburbia"?

The only way I would be agreeable to this atrocity is if us "Suburbanites", upon paying this idiotic tax, would then be able to vote in Chicago elections. It is a reasonable request, as it seems that in Chicago, the dead vote regularly.

Endorse incumbents

Editor:

The College of Lake County Federation of Teachers has unanimously endorsed the incumbent Trustee, Millicent Berliant and Nancy Block, for the College Board election on Tues., Nov. 3.

Both Nancy Block of Prairie View and Millicent Berliant of Deerfield have demonstrated sound judgement in balancing community needs and educational priorities during their terms on the CLC Board of Trustees.

Trustees Berliant and Block have provided effective oversight of the hiring of new President Daniel LaVista, have presided over two multi-year contract negotiations with the college faculty that were amicably and promptly resolved, and have been involved in the expansion of the college into Waukegan and the southern portion of the college district. Under their guidance the college has added the science wing onto the main building, thereby completing the main campus.

Most importantly, the college has earned high marks from the community for its high caliber instruction (an unprecedented ten year accreditation was recently awarded by the North Central Association); for providing a wide diversity of programs and a solid liberal arts curriculum; and for making these things possible within existing revenues.

We urge the residents of the College District not to take these accomplishments for granted. Many community colleges in Illinois suffer from financial difficulties and labor-management disputes that disrupt their educational programs. We enthusiastically endorse the reelection of Trustees Nancy Block and Millicent Berliant.

Forest preserve veto is a welcome change

FOREST PRESERVE PRESIDENT Don Strenger's veto of the acquisition of Country Estates in Warren Twp. and the Cowpath in Mundelein is a welcome development.

Perhaps those two parcels should become part of the forest preserve but it is wiser to wait and see what the planner has to say before going hog wild on more land acquisition.

Frankly, I get the unnerving feeling that the forest preserve is treading perilously close to a confiscatory policy in acquiring land.

There are some rights in conflict here. Certainly, the public has the right to expect the forest preserve to preserve open space for the use of the people. The forest preserve has done that well. But I don't like to see a lot of involuntary condemnation proceedings.

Budget issues take center stage in Capitol

While budget questions are expected to dominate much of the annual fall veto session, lawmakers will also be considering dozens of changes in legislation recommended by the governor, according to Republican Caucus Chair Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

Illinois' constitution gives the governor the unusual authority to rewrite legislation. Sen. Geo-Karis explained that under this "amendatory veto" power the governor returns the legislation to the General Assembly with a list of his recommended changes. Lawmakers have three choices: they can approve those changes by a simple majority vote; they can "override" the governor by a three-fifths majority and enact the bill exactly as it was originally passed (without the governor's changes); or they can take no action, which kills the bill.

In most cases, the governor's changes are technical and the amendatory veto is usually approved. However, that is not always the case. This year, the governor used his amendatory veto power on 96 bills, including the following measures:

College Savings (SB 2) - Creates a special state-sponsored savings bond program for parents wishing to save for their children's college education. Interest earned on the bonds would be sheltered from state and federal taxes.

Juvenile Crime (HB 378) - Creates a new offense of contributing to the criminal delinquency of a juvenile. The charge could be filed against anyone over the age of 21 who solicits, compels or directs a person under age 17 to commit a felony.

Alzheimer's Disease (SB 147) - Requires that nurse's aides, orderlies and nurse technicians employed in nursing homes that serve patients with Alzheimer's Disease take 12 hours of specialized training in the care and treatment of Alzheimer's patients.

Credit Cards (SB 400) -

Requires the state's Commissioner of Banks and Trusts to compile information about charge card interest rates, grace periods, membership fees and other conditions. This information will be available to the public to make it easier for credit card customers to shop around for the best deals.

Nuclear Waste (HB 717) - As amended by the governor, this measure would give county boards the right to approve or reject proposed low-level nuclear waste sites in rural areas. A similar veto power already exists for municipalities in cases where a low-level waste site is to be built within one and a half miles of a city.

Pop-Tops (SB 218) - Bans the sale of beverages with detachable metal "pop-tops" beginning July 1, 1988.

Illinois Grown (HB1187) - Creates an "Illinois Grown" label program. Merchants would be allowed to display the special label on fruits, vegetables, meats and other foods produced or originated in Illinois.

Rent-to-Own (SB 1046) - Regulates rental purchase agreements.

school. Her husband is in real estate and she works as a counselor at Camp Crayola in Antioch.

John Steitz, 48, is a 19-year board veteran. He is the owner of Steitz Resort and has two sons in college who went to Grass Lake and ACHS. He served as board president for five years, president of the Grass Lake PTO and has worked on all the school's projects, including the haunted house. He strongly believes in supporting the school's administration.

Don Grob, an engineer, is married and has four children that are Grass Lake students. He and his family have lived in the area nine years.

He is running so that he can help "give the children the greatest education possible within the financial capabilities of the district."

"I intend to do my homework to balance community interest and the school budget," he promises.

Marie Bausam, 33, is married and has two children attending Grass Lake School. She has been attending all school board meetings and has been active in questioning and opposing some of the board's moves in recent years.

She has worked at Camp Crayola in Antioch for five years.

She is for the referendum because "the school needs the money," but she questions the board's spending and feels it can be changed.

There is no contest and no issues involved in the Emmons Grade school election with three candidates running for the three open seats.

Incumbent Pam Pierson has been on the board for six years, is married and has two children at Emmons. She is a graduate of the University of Illinois and presently works as a housewife in her own home.

She is running for reelection so she can "continue to have a voice on issues that impact on the children's education." She believes in the "teamwork approach."

Sandy Steffanberg, who was on the Emmons School Board in 1984 and 1985, would like to return. She is married and has three children who are students at Emmons. She works at MILA as a tour planner.

She is a graduate of Wittenberg University in Ohio where she majored in political science.

With an emphasis on good education, she would "like to see more challenging courses instituted at the junior high level."

Library sets referendum meeting

Residents of the Nippersink Public Library Dist. had an opportunity on Thursday, Oct. 29, to learn about the upcoming referendum to build a home for the library. The public information meeting began at 7:30 p.m. at the library, 10308 Main St., Richmond.

The library board, with support from a citizen's group, is asking voters to approve in the Nov. 3 elections general obligations bonds of $850,000 to build and furnish a library building; and an increase of eight cents per $100 assessed valuation in the maintenance tax rate to maintain the new building.

If the two issues are approved, the project will qualify for a state grant of up to $250,000, which would cut the cost of the project by 29 percent.

Counseling

The Lake County Health Dept. Mental Health Division offers walk-in and telephone crisis counseling and referrals for Lake County residents experiencing emotional stress. This service is offered at no charge through the Coordinated Area Treatment Services (CATS) Program.

Siblik-Hodgson

Catherine E. Siblik, daughter of Allen and Pamela Siblik of Lake Villa, and Patrick J. Hodgson, son of John and Patricia Hodgson of Le Mars, Iowa, were united in marriage on August 1 at Prince of Peace Catholic Church. Rev. Richard Fassbinder officiated.

The bride was given away by her father in the double ring ceremony. Her engagement ring had belonged to her late grandmother.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Tammy Siblik. Junior bridesmaids were Krystal Dodds and Kasha Ferrel, cousins of the bride; bridesmaids were Debra and Kimberly Siblik, sisters of the bride, and Maureen and Katie Hodgson, sisters of the groom. Flower girl was Jennifer Kowalewski.

Tony Hodgson, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Michael Hodgson, brother of the groom, Jeff Campbell, cousin of the bride, Bob Livermore and Vince Wuebker. Joey Pitts, a nephew of the groom, was ringbearer.

James Campbell, the bride's cousin, and Dave Kessenich served as ushers.

A reception was held for the couple at Harbor Ridge Country Club in Antioch.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Carmel High School. She will graduate from the College of Lake County at the end of fall semester, and plans to continue her undergraduate studies. She is employed with Hallen Products

We Recognize Opportunity ---When We See It!

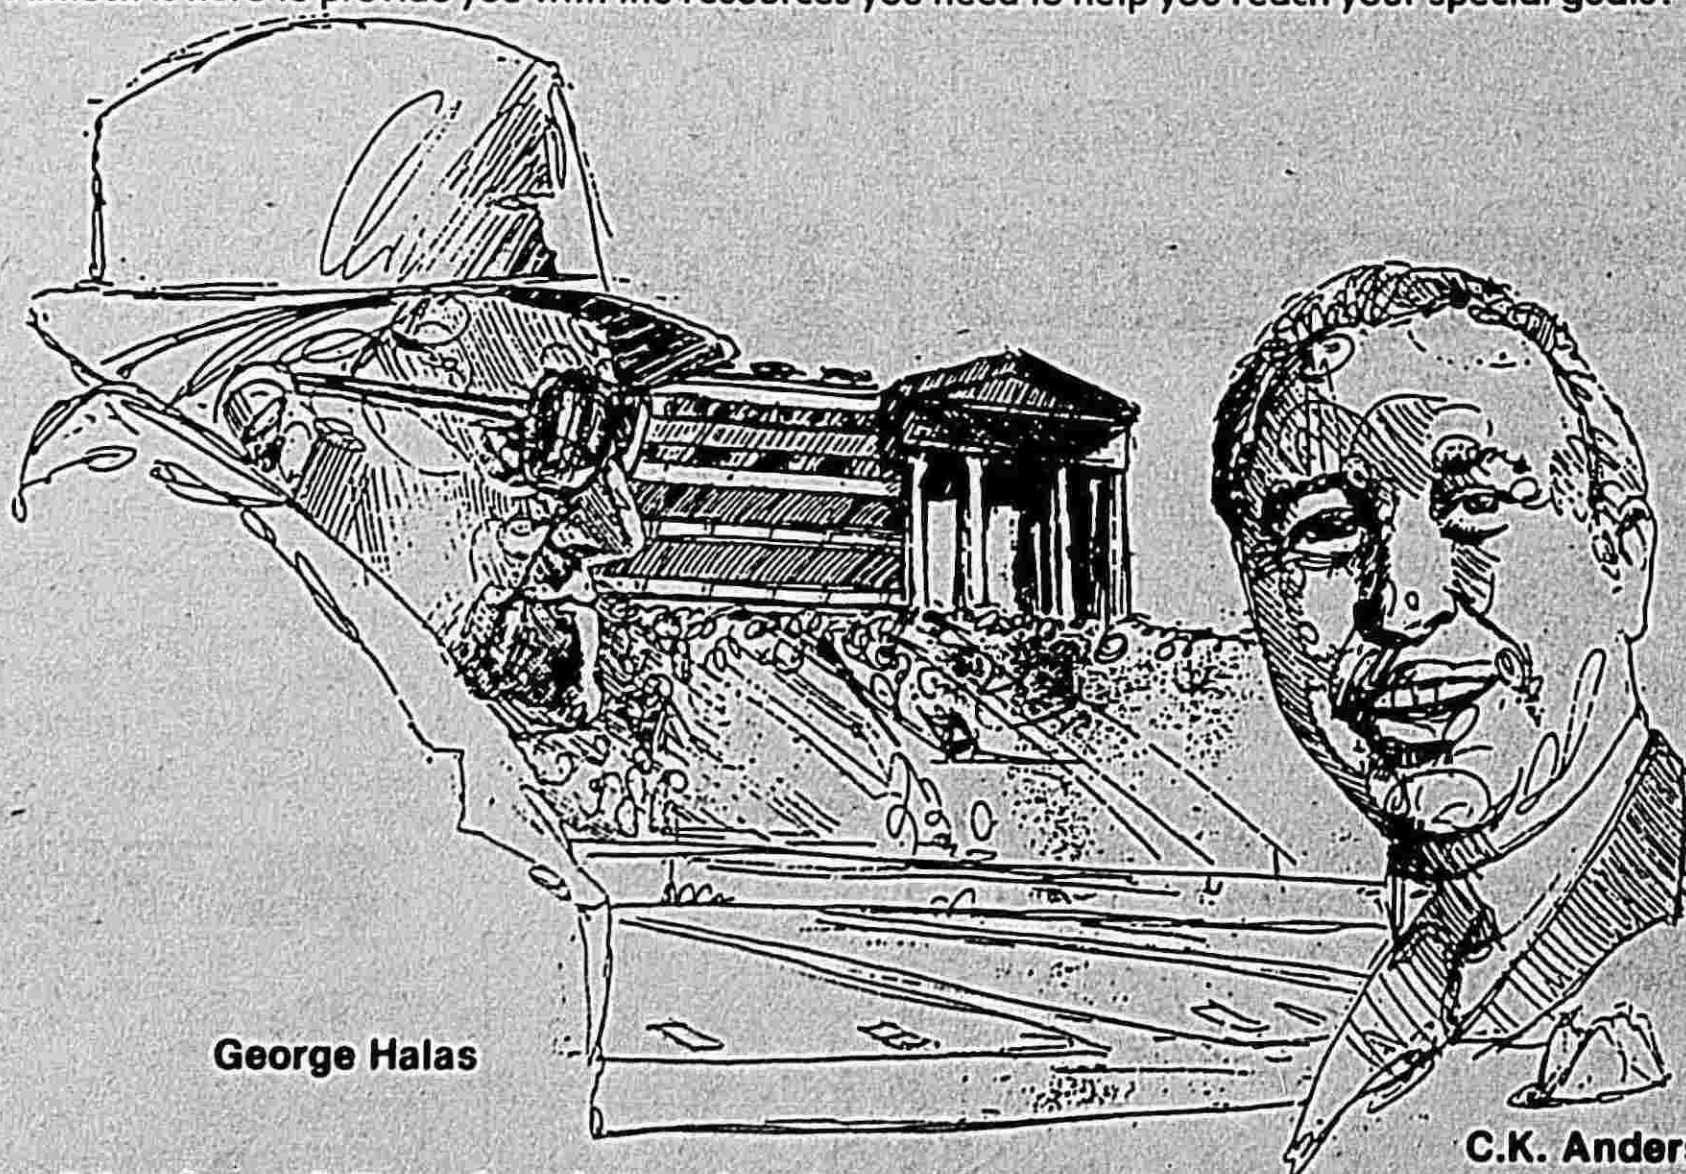

The founder of the First National Bank of Antioch, C.K. Anderson, recognized an opportunity in July 1933, when a struggling coach attempted to keep together a struggling football team.

C.K. Anderson and the First National Bank of Antioch were interested in what this football coach was trying to do. They provided him with the resources to keep his football team together and travel the road that would lead to New Orleans and Super Bowl XX.

This football coach was the great Papa Bear - George Halas and the football team - The Chicago Bears.

In recognizing George Halas' opportunity, C.K. Anderson and the First National Bank of Antioch were fortunate to be able to help this coach and his team.

The First National Bank of Antioch looks for, and recognizes opportunity in our customers and community. Whether you're a budding entrepreneur, builder or homeowner, the First National Bank of Antioch is here to provide you with the resources you need to help you reach your special goals!

'Baby Boom' crawls down same old road

☐ YES
☒ NO
★ ½

Like most moviegoers, I have a list of favorite performers that I can watch in almost anything. Actress Kim Richards, for instance, would fascinate me even if she just did stock market reports for two hours. For different reasons, Jenny Agutter, Sissy Spacek, and Ally Sheedy are also in my 'anything goes' category—but I'm afraid Diane Keaton is not. So that shoots the only reason for sitting through 'Baby Boom', at least for me.

Of course, that is all just a matter of personal taste. I certainly don't mean to take anything away from Keaton, one of the most competent and talented actresses around. It's just that, for me, she is not enough to save this movie from its bland, boring sitcom premise.

A comedy about a self-absorbed person suddenly saddled with a baby that he/she is forced to care for is not exactly a brand new idea. Of course, it's OK to use an old idea as long as it's done with a new angle, a fresh twist. But 'Baby Boom' is so devoid of ANY originality, it's pathetic!

We get the same old scenes: trying to diaper the baby, feed the baby, get the baby to stop crying, etc. Naturally, there is the scene where she almost gives the baby up but then decides she can't—and so on. All the usual, predictable stuff.

This movie has been called 'a screwball comedy' by some critics but it is nowhere near crazy or inventive enough to deserve that title. It would have been great if they had the guts to do something outrageous, like have Keaton sell the baby to an Arab Sultan and use the cash to buy a condo or sailboat. (Hey, at least that would be original!)

Another major problem with the film is that it goes off track when Keaton loses her job. It was not plausible that her character, whose whole world was briefcases and board meetings, would suddenly pack up and move to the country. This segment almost seems like a different movie...with another old idea: the city person trying to adapt to country life.

Talents like Keaton, Sam Shepard, and Harold Ramis deserve better material than they are given here.

Ironically, when I went to see this film, the 'coming attractions' included a movie called 'Three Men And A Baby' due out next month. In other words: here we go again.

Diane Keaton spirit in 'Baby Boom'

☒ YES
☐ NO
★ ★ ½

My partner Bill is an excellent writer, a very competent movie critic and an extremely 'nice' guy. Hey, he's almost as wonderful as he would lead you to believe. But when it comes to knowing what a 'screen presence' is, we must part company, and fast! What's with this guy? I mean, Ally Sheedy as a 'screen presence'? Watch my type: "NO WAY BILL!"

When I meet a person a bit older than myself, and the conversation turns to the subject of 'movie stars' that fill one's memory, I am amazed. Imagine conversing with a person who remembers well how it felt to wait in a theater line anticipating a film starring the likes of Humphry Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Elisabeth Scott, or a younger Katherine Hepburn. What must it have been like to sit in a darkened theater and await the start of a new movie starring Spencer Tracy, a film that no one has yet seen. It must have been 'the stuff that dreams are made of'.

It's at times like these that I must pause and try to recall the time that I myself live in. For instance I can still stand on line awaiting a newly released film starring Robert Redford, go to see a never before seen Woody Allen movie, an unviewed Clint Eastwood film and Diane Keaton is still acting in the cinema. If these things don't move you in a world where serious people are considering making 'Porky's 4' and even more serious people are considering seeing it, then don't read on, I beg of you. But if you understand and can appreciate just a little of what I am telling you on these matters of 'screen presence', then you understand. These are not favorites, they are that part of our era that will survive in the memory.

Is the movie 'Baby Boom' with Diane Keaton a light comedy? Undoubtedly. Is it a great film? Probably not. Is it an enjoyable film? Definitely! My biggest complaint with this film is its unevenness. The director/editor definitely could have used a hand or two in telling this very funny story.

I should add one last point. This film works best if one can relate to the situation faced by Diane Keaton's character, a 30's plus professional whose "biological clock is ticking" as I think one character expresses it rather well. Could the reality faced by that character have been better expressed? With the help of a director/writer the magnitude of say, Woody Allen, it could have been a major film. But that is another thought that I won't try to go into. ('Annie Hall II'. Oh, ...)

Retired persons can re-enter work force

For a variety of reasons, many people find that they have retired too early.

Some will determine that their retirement income, Social Security, savings and investments are not adequate for the level of living they wanted when they retired. Others may miss the fulfillment of life and the social contacts they enjoyed while working.

In some cases, unexpected expenses have come along. In any case, they wish that they were still working.

So, what can be done about this situation? There is always volunteer work, although that will not solve the financial needs of some. For others, it means getting a job. But how, and where?

At this point in their lives, most seniors are not looking for career advancement, but some position and employer where they will feel comfortable and can be a valued employee. This may be the time to think of a change in careers. One could pursue a job where interests and skills that have been developed outside of those gained from former employment can be used.

Once the decision has been made to go back to work, a plan to accomplish this should be made. Who would likely have jobs for what you want to do? Although want ads and other public announcements should be pursued, one of the best sources for leads come from one's own "network." Let friends, acquaintances and relatives know that a job is being sought, and ask them to let you know of any opening of which they may become aware. There will be less competition for these jobs.

Another good way to develop leads is to telephone employers who could have the job wanted. Make every attempt to speak to the person who would have the hiring authority.

One very important thing is to keep a positive attitude. Don't get discouraged by rejection. There are many employers who are not concerned about age, but are concerned whether one can and will do the job.

There is a lot of luck involved in finding a job, but luck can be improved with effort. The Private Industry Council of Lake County offers a program for persons age 55 and over who are interested in finding a job. The program is called Job Club.

At no cost to club members, Job Club provides training and leads in finding a satisfying job. For more information, call Jim Erickson at (312) 249-2200.

Enter now for Ms. Illinois Senior Citizens Pageant

The Fourth Annual Ms. Illinois Senior Citizens Pageant, sponsored by the National Ms. Senior Citizen Pageant, Inc., is being planned for Sunday, Dec. 6 at 6 p.m. at the magnificent Orrington Hotel, 1710 Orrington Ave., in downtown Evanston.

Mayor Joan W. Barr of Evanston has proclaimed Nov. 30 through Dec. 6, Senior Citizen's Week; and Dec. 6 has been proclaimed Pageant Day.

This pageant is a unique way to show off the talents and worthiness of seniors.

Contestants must be female, of any race, 55 years of age or older, residents of Illinois and have a desire and willingness to display a talent for the purposes of the pageant. A talent may be anything from singing, playing a musical instrument, dancing, or other performing art to drawing, artwork, handicrafts, hobby or service to the community as a volunteer.

Contestants will be judged in the areas of poise, personality and talent; as well as a question and answer segment. Eight semifinalists will be selected, which will then be narrowed down to four finalists. Prizes will be awarded to the four finalists.

The first prize winner will receive $1,000 in cash, gift certificates and shopping sprees at several stores in and around the area.

Prepare now for nursing home stays

The graying of America has brought with it new challenges, one of which is the question of how our nation's senior citizens should finance long-term nursing home care.

According to Dale Larson, author of "A Comprehensive Guide to Medicare and Health Insurance for Older People," the average stay in a nursing home is two and a half years. Add to this the fact that nursing home stays are running around $20,000 to $35,000 a year and it's easy to see how the costs mount up. Yet recent estimates indicate that only 200,000 Americans now carry "nursing home insurance"—insurance which covers an extended stay in a nursing home.

Some experts believe one reason this number may be so low is simply confusion over who foots the bill.

"Many senior citizens believe Medicare will cover their stay in a nursing home," says Richard Packard, a senior vice president at AMEX Life Assurance Co. "In truth, Medicare's coverage is very limited and is available only when high intensity skilled nursing care is required."

Once savings have been depleted, or if the patient is considered low income, Medicaid (known as Medi-Cal in California) will cover the nursing home expenditure. According to author Larson, half of America's patients currently on Medicaid were not poor when they entered the nursing home. Rather, their assets were depleted as a result of extensive nursing home bills which were not covered by Medicare. To protect their personal assets, many senior citizens today are purchasing private insurance.

AMEX Life Assurance Co., an American Express company, was one of the first companies to offer nursing home coverage, introducing its policy in 1974.

"Until recently, very few people had purchased nursing home insurance," said Packard. "Today, however, we are selling many more policies than ever before. In fact, we estimate that half of the total policies currently in force were purchased the last year alone. Too many older adults have seen their friends wiped out financially by an unforeseen stay in a nursing home."

Start saving early for comfortable retirement

With the widespread popularity of 401(k) plans, more employees than ever are saving for retirement through "defined contribution" plans. But many employees still need help estimating how much they need to save for a comfortable retirement and what level of benefits their plan will ultimately provide. Communicating to employees the following guidelines may help.

Final benefits are affected by a number of things—return on investments, size and timing of pay increases, and interest rates at retirement, for example. So it's impossible to determine precisely what deposit level is needed. However, the following rule of thumb is helpful:

Employees should plan to accumulate approximately 50 percent of their final pay by age 65. That, added to Social Security, should provide an adequate retirement for many employees.

"Final pay" means the salary an employee is making when he or she actually retires, not current pay. There are ways to estimate that figure. For example, assuming a salary increases by five percent per year, final pay will double in 15 years and triple in less than 25 years. That's the pay an employee's retirement benefits should be based on.

If employees don't start saving at a fairly early age, it's not possible to accumulate adequate benefits under a defined contribution plan. What can be done for those who need additional benefits?

—For many employees, IRAs are still attractive savings devices.

—A personal tax deferred annuity can be an efficient way to accumulate funds.

—Individual insurance policies can be an effective way to save for retirement, while also protecting the family against economic hardship if the employee dies prematurely.

By helping employees save for a comfortable retirement, employers plan an important role in their financial security.

Awards will recognize programs for elderly

Three programs for the elderly will soon be $25,000 richer, thanks to a new awards program announced by the Retirement Research Foundation.

The new program, ENCORE, has been established to recognize the successful work of community programs currently serving the elderly, probably with little or no public acclaim. "ENCORE recognizes work that has been going on in communities," said Joe Parkin, president of the Retirement Research Foundation. "It is an award for excellent performance, recognition of programs good enough to be replicated."

Program replication is the second part of the program, Markham said. After program winners are announced early in 1988, additional smaller grants will be made to duplicate the program in different communities.

Parkin stressed that ENCORE is an award program, rather than a grant for future projects. "ENCORE was designed to applaud work that has been accomplished, so the application is brief," he said. "The Foundation is not looking for lengthy proposals; rather, it seeks to discover programs that work."

Parkin said that ENCORE encourages applications. Questions and requests for application forms should go to ENCORE at the Retirement Research Foundation, (312) 823-4133.

Three awards of $25,000 each will be made to community-based programs for the elderly in Cook, Lake and DuPage Counties. Deadline for applications is Nov. 3.

The Retirement Research Foundation is a private philanthropy with a primary interest in the elderly in the United States. Its offices are at 1300 W. Higgins Rd., Park Ridge.

A "Salute to the Stars" held by the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) awarded 197 Lake County seniors with certificates and awards at its seventh annual Recognitions and Awards Banquet earlier this month.

Locally sponsored by the Lake County Community Action Project from its main offices in Waukegan, RSVP benefits seniors ages 60 and over who wish to donate their time and talents to Lake County. In the past year, over 26,000 hours of service were donated by members.

Special awards were presented to the following senior volunteers:

Health program/advocacy, Katherine Vandercreek; health/mental retardation, Francis Heinlen; knowledge and skills, Josephine Ullrich; energy/client assistance, Geraldine Weber; economic development and education, Emily Merlock; community service organizations, Eleanor Schroeder; community service companionship outreach, Mary Eley; and criminal justice senior advocacy, James Dicastri.

Other awards were received by Pauline Mesec for Recruiter of the Year and the Lake County Museum for Volunteer Station of the Year. Louise Smith received the Grace Moore Program Service Award.

Grace Bejcek was presented with the 1987 Volunteer of the Year award.

Mayor Robert Sabonjian presented RSVP director Cathy Gates with a resolution from the City of Waukegan. Other presentations from the City of Zion were made to Louise Smith and Grace Bejcek from Mayor Adeline Geo-Karis.

Various treatments are available for dry eye

When a person's eyes are full of tears—and not from crying or chopping an onion—the problem is called uncontrollable tearing.

The most common cause of this is dry eye. It's easier to accept the fact that watering eyes are caused by dryness when it's understood that there are three types of tears produced by the eye: watery tears, mucin-based tears, and oily tears.

If the eye does not produce enough of the mucin-based or oily tears, the cornea (clear front surface of the eye) becomes dried out and irritated. The person may experience burning and itching eyes. In response, the eye produces watery tears to protect itself. While this may give temporary relief, after the eye is lubricated, production of the watery tears ceases and dryness—and tearing—occur once again.

Most dry eye is treatable with artificial tear drops or ointment to keep the eyes lubricated. In severe cases, a procedure called "punctal occlusion" may be the answer. The procedure involves closing up, or occluding, the tiny opening (the punctum) in the eyelids, which allows tears to drain. Punctal occlusion works like a dam to control the draining and conserve scarce tears.

A new test, called the punctal occlusion temporary test (POTT), helps an ophthalmologist to determine whether the punctal occlusion procedure will work for an individual.

In the test, short absorbable sutures are painlessly threaded into each punctum and left there for three to five days. If the symptoms of burning, itching, dryness or tearing have stopped during the test period, then permanent occlusion with plugs or laser surgery can be performed.

A flyer about dry eye is available from Dr. Walter I. Fried, ophthalmologist and ophthalmic surgeon, 3477 Grand Ave., Gurnee, (312) 249-4660.

Pension industry has a language all its own

Humpty Dumpty would have felt completely at home with the lexicon of pension fund management.

"When I use a word," said Humpty Dumpty to Alice in Lewis Carroll's "Through the Looking Glass," "it means just what I choose it to mean—neither more nor less."

So it is with the words in pension fund management. They often lose their everyday meanings and take on new ones.

For example, when a pension fund portfolio has been immunized, it has not been inoculated against some dread disease. It has been structured so it is unaffected by changes in interest rates.

Similarly, the word "dedication" takes on a different meaning in the context of a pension fund. When a portfolio has been dedicated, it has been structured so its cash flow exactly meets the cash flow requirements of the pension fund in meeting benefit payments for a specific group of employees.

Following are explanations of some pension fund management jargon:

Actuarial assumptions: Assumptions about future developments in the plan that are used in calculating the annual pension contribution.

There are two key actuarial assumptions for pension funds—the interest assumption and the salary assumption. The former is an assumption about the investment return likely to be earned by the assets of a pension fund over a long time horizon. The latter is an estimate of how rapidly employee salaries will increase over a long time horizon.

Actuarial funding method: The schedule of contributions to meet the plan's liabilities for benefit payments. There are several allowable funding methods, and each produces a different flow of contributions. Some produce increasing contributions; others, level contributions; and other, declining contributions.

Asset allocation: How much of the pension assets is invested in each of the investment media, such as stocks, bonds and real estate. A typical asset allocation today might have 50 percent of the assets in common stocks, 30 percent in bonds, 15 percent in cash equivalents and five percent in other vehicles.

Defined benefit plan: The company promises a fixed monthly benefit to employees when they retire. Companies must contribute enough each year to amortize the cost of the promised benefits and any past service liability over no more than 40 years. In a defined benefit plan, the company bears the investment risk. If investment performance is poor, it must increase its contributions to offset the shortfall.

Defined contribution plan: As its name implies, a defined contribution plan is one in which the sponsor agrees to contribute a specific amount each year, usually based on the company's profits and/or the employee's earnings. No specific final benefit is promised. The employee receives, upon retirement or termination, whatever vested amount is in her or his personal account. The employee bears the investment risk.

Employee stock ownership plan: This plan allows employees to buy all or part of a company using the contributions the company makes to the employee benefit plan. Often the plan borrows money from a bank to buy all or part of the company stock, then repays the loan from the company's employee benefit contributions. Many experts consider ESOPs unsuitable as a sole retirement plan because the assets consist entirely of company stock, which could become worthless if the company ran into economic difficulties.

Divestment: The selling of securities out of a portfolio. Most recently it has been applied to programs requiring the elimination of South Africa-related securities from portfolios.

Funding: The process of accumulating sufficient assets to meet the pension plan's liabilities for benefit payments.

Futures: Stock index futures are contracts that allow investors to buy or sell a basket of stocks (representing a particular stock index) at today's prices for future delivery. The contracts are settled in cash.

Fixed-income futures: Fixed-income futures allow investors to buy or sell fixed-income securities at today's prices for future delivery. Both vehicles are used as hedging devices by money managers.

401(k) plans: Also known as salary reduction plans, these allow employees to save part of their salaries tax-free. Companies often make matching contributions, also tax free. The tax reform bill cut the maximum annual contribution to a 401(k) plan to $7,000.

Guaranteed investment contracts: GICs are offered by insurance companies. As the name implies, they offer a guaranteed rate of return for a given period and repayment of principal at the end of that period.

Hedging: Using one kind of security to protect against unfavorable movements in the price of another kind. Most often, hedging is done by the use of options or financial futures.

Index funds: These are stock or bond portfolios structured so their risk levels on expected returns exactly match those of stock or bond market indexes. Some index funds are modified to meet special requirements of pension sponsors, such as the avoidance of South African-related securities.

Investment objectives: A statement of goals for the investment program that defines, not only the desired rate of return on investments, but also the level of risk appropriate in achieving those returns. The target rate of return and the level of risk are determined by the needs of the plan and the health and maturity of the company.

Option: A call option gives the holder the right, but not the obligation, to buy from the writer of the option during a specified period a specified security at a specified price. A put option is a contract that gives the holder the right, but not the obligation, to sell to the writer of the contract a specified security at a specified price.

Passive management: The use of index funds or immunized or dedicated portfolios for the investment of pension fund assets, called such because once the portfolio is established, little decision-making is required.

Portfolio insurance: This new product promises to guarantee a fund a minimum level of return while allowing it to achieve most of any market appreciation. The pension fund sponsor agrees to accept the possibility of underperforming in the market in return for an assurance that returns will not fall below a desired level.

Profit sharing: An agreement between a company and its employees allowing employees to share in the company profits. Annual contributions are made by the company, when it has profits, to an account for each employee, either in cash or in a deferred plan, which may be invested in stocks, bonds or cash equivalents. Assets in the account generally accumulate tax deferred until the employee retires or leaves the company.

Soft dollars: A means of paying brokerage firms for their services through commission revenue, rather than through direct payments.

Taft-Hartley plan: A plan jointly trustee by a union and an employer or a number of employers in one industry.

Termination: The ending of a defined benefit pension plan.

Total rate of return: The investment return earned by the pension fund's investments, including capital gains or losses plus dividends or interest payments. For periods greater than one year, it is usually expressed as a compound annual return, which recognizes interest upon interest. A time-weighted rate of return is a method of calculating the investment return that eliminates the impact of cash flows into and out of the portfolio, such as new cash contributions or cash withdrawals for benefit payments. The time-weighted rate of return measures the performance of a fund manager.

A dollar-weighted rate of return: A method of expressing the total fund return that adjusts for the cash inflows or outflows by weighting the return according to the time they occurred.

Unfunded liabilities: Liabilities of the pension fund for which there are not sufficient assets to pay. These usually arise because at the inception of the plan, credit is given to employees for the years worked before the plan was instituted. They may also arise because of contract renegotiations, or because a company obtains a waiver of its annual contributions from the Internal Revenue Service.

Venture capital: A source of financing for start-up companies or others embarking on new or turnaround ventures that entail some investment risk but offer the potential for above-average future profits. It can come from groups of investment banks, corporations organized as small business investment companies, and others who pool investments in venture capital funds or limited partnerships.

Vesting: When an employee is vested, he or she has a legal right to the accrued benefit, whether under a defined benefit plan or a defined contribution plan. Under tax reform, vesting will occur after five years or in seven-year graded vesting, with 20 percent after three years. Under most defined contribution plans, vesting has been graduated—for example, 10 percent per year. The new rule doesn't apply to multiemployer plans.

Yield: The income stream of an investment divided by the price of the security. For example, the yield of a common stock is the annual dividend payments divided by the current price of the stock.

Yield to maturity: The rate of return yielded by a bond held to maturity when both interest payments and the investor's capital gain or loss on the security are taken into account.

Dow collapse can bring buying opportunities

by GARY S. MEYERS

There is no reason for the panic of Wall St. to spread to Main St. The 508-point stock market collapse on Monday, Oct. 19, is not the beginning of another Great Depression.

Actually, it presents savvy investors with buying opportunities. Even as the market sky was falling earlier this week, smart money was moving into selected stocks. Many corporations are taking advantage of falling prices to buy their own stock at heavy discounts.

"Investors have to be like sailors in a hurricane. There will be some shipwrecks, but you just have to let the storm run its course," said Bill Stanley, a 31-year veteran broker and vice president with Shearson Lehman Brothers in Norwich, Conn.

"When we know where the bottom of this market is, it will definitely be time to buy," agreed Paul Resnik, vice president for equity research marketing for E.F. Hutton in New York.

Following the Monday market collapse, buy orders flooded the stock market on Tuesday, Oct. 20, and the Dow rose 102.27 points in record trading to close at 1,841.01. Tuesday's New York Stock Exchange volume was 608.1 million shares--the second consecutive record.

The rebound continued on Wednesday, Oct. 21, as the Dow set another single-day record, shooting up 186.84 points. The broad market also received a shot in the arm, after its hammering on Monday and Tuesday.

What caused the historic plummet and subsequent rebound of the stock market? The professionals panicked. Remember that many traders who control million-dollar accounts are in their mid-20s and early 30s, and had never before experienced a severe downturn.

The sell-off began Wednesday, Oct. 14, with the first of three record declines in the Dow. Thursday saw light activity as investors played wait-and-see. With no rebound in sight, the market began to lose its senses on Friday afternoon.

Panic-selling during the last hour on Friday was cut short by the closing bell. It was a weekend that many traders did not enjoy. The sell pressure that built up over the weekend was released with the opening bell Monday morning.

Stocks like International Business Machines and Ford Motor Co. fell precipitously, without justification. For instance, IBM, which only a week ago reported record third quarter earnings, fell more than $30 in heavy trading to $102 per share.

Over the next two days, the same stocks that had fallen rebounded. IBM was up to $122.74 per share and Ford, which had fallen more than $15 per share to $69, moved back to $77 by Wednesday's close.

The 22.6 percent collapse of the Dow Jones industrial average on Monday eclipsed the market's previous darkest day--Oct. 29, 1929. But that's where comparisons to the Great Crash end.

In 1929, a substantial portion of U.S. banks had huge leveraged positions in the stock market. When the market crashed, banks ran short of cash, and nervous, uninsured depositors demanded their savings, causing runs on the assets that remained.

Banks today are not allowed to invest in the stock market, and deposits now are insured by the federal government. Aside from a more stable banking system and tougher federal regulations, investors are more sophisticated. And the U.S. economy is fundamentally stable.

Unemployment is down, even as our economy absorbs a constantly growing workforce. Labor shortages are arising in various parts of the nation, and job opportunities abound. The volume of U.S. exports is increasing and domestic prices are not.

The consensus on Wall St. is that the sell-off was emotional and not based on economic fundamentals. It was generated by internal fears among the traders themselves.

"They say that people in Manhattan were walking down the middle of the street today, afraid of falling bodies hitting the sidewalks," joked Mark Casolo, a market analyst for Tucker Anthony & R.L. Day in Schenectady, N.Y.

But the truth is, small investors and consumers shouldn't panic. Don't go running to the grocery store to hoard food, and don't sell all your possessions. Instead, continue to build savings, then cautiously buy stocks. That's always been a good idea.

What do we think will happen from here on out? Declining prices have already made some stock purchases more attractive than ever. Investors will soon return to the marketplace.

NFIC to meet at Condell

The Lake County Chapter of the National Foundation for Ileitis and Colitis (NFIC) will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 10, in the cafeteria of Condell Hospital, Libertyville.

Registered dietician Ilene Wynn will discuss the topic, "Nutritional Concerns in Inflammatory Bowel Disease" at the meeting.

Ileitis (also known as Crohn's disease) and ulcerative colitis are painful, chronic digestive diseases afflicting as many as two million Americans. These diseases attack people from all walks of life. The cause of them is unknown. Some persons have mild symptoms, while others have severe and disabling symptoms.

Medications are available to decrease inflammation, but they do not provide a cure. NFIC and its chapters are devoted to raising the funds needed to discover the cause of and cure for ileitis and colitis. NFIC also works to inform and educate the public about these diseases, and has mounted a series of educational programs for primary care health professionals.

For more information on the Lake County Chapter of NFIC, call Karen Santi, (312)740-9679.

Various remedies relieve dry eye

When a person's eyes are full of tears--and not from crying or chopping an onion--the problem is called uncontrollable tearing.

The most common cause of this is dry eye. It's easier to accept the fact that watering eyes are caused by dryness when it's understood that there are three types of tears produced by the eye: watery tears, mucin-based tears, and oily tears.

If the eye does not produce enough of the mucin-based or oily tears, the cornea (clear front surface of the eye) becomes dried out and irritated. The person may experience burning and itching eyes. In response, the eye produces watery tears to protect itself. While this may give temporary relief, after the eye is lubricated, production of the watery tears ceases and dryness--and tearing--occur once again.

Most dry eye is treatable with artificial tear drops or ointment to keep the eyes lubricated.

In severe cases, a procedure called "punctal occlusion" may be the answer. The procedure involves closing up, or occluding, the tiny opening (the punctum) in the eyelids, which allows tears to drain. Punctal occlusion works like a dam to control the draining and conserve scarce tears.

A new test, called the punctal occlusion temporary test (POTT), helps an ophthalmologist to determine whether the punctal occlusion procedure will work for an individual.

In the test, short absorbable sutures are painlessly threaded into each punctum and left there for three to five days. If the symptoms of burning, itching, dryness or tearing have stopped during the test period, then permanent occlusion with plugs or laser surgery can be performed.

A flyer about dry eye is available from Dr. Walter I. Fried, ophthalmologist and ophthalmic surgeon, 3477 Grand Ave., Gurnee, (312)249-4660.

DOCTORS FORUM

Until recently, mere mention of the word "impotence" was all but taboo. Nearly ten million males were forced to suffer silently with a serious problem. They had nowhere to turn for help. North Point Male Sexual Dysfunction Clinic was among the first medical facilities to reach out to this suffering segment of the population. In 1983, the clinic initiated a comprehensive Male Sexual Dysfunction Program. The program offers analysis, counseling and treatment to patients across the U.S.

Doctors now believe close to 50% of all the men suffering from impotence have a correctable physical problem. This is a radical departure from the earlier belief that impotence is usually psychologically induced.

"North Point practices a sensitive, professional approach to treating impotence" says Dr. Raza Khan, Board Certified Urologist and Consultant to the Male Sexual Dysfunction Clinic. "The first hurdle is to get the patient to come forth and seek help as he would for other ailments." Once enrolled in the program, the patient participates in a series of tests to determine whether his problem is physical or psychological. This includes psychological analysis as well as hormonal, neurologic, urologic and vascular testing.

The clinic also conducts Nocturnal Penile Tumescence Studies. The patient spends an entire night in a special sleep laboratory. An average adult male will experience three to five erections during a normal night's sleep. North Point's Sleep Lab utilizes sophisticated monitors to measure a patient's erections during the night. If his impotence is not physical, erections should take place.

"A thorough diagnosis at the clinic takes approximately three days," says Khan. "At that time, the cause of most impotence cases can be determined. The treatment counseling is the next step."

Psychological problems may be treated by an expert on the North Point Staff or referred to a doctor in the patient's home territory. Physical treatments vary according to the diagnosis. North Point Male Sexual Dysfunction Clinic is qualified and successful in performing all. These can range from hormone injections to medications or even surgery. For more information or a free information packet, call (312) 872-8922.

The Doctor Forum is brought to you as a public service from the Heritage Medical Center, in Antioch, Illinois. For more information call (312)395-0835

The State of Illinois offers relief from property taxes to eligible individuals age 65 and over, and help with paying for medication for certain illnesses, through the Circuit Breaker program.

The program offers an annual grant for relief from property taxes or mobile home taxes that qualifying seniors pay on their residences. The law was also designed to help persons who suffer from heart or blood pressure problems, arthritis or diabetes pay for approved medicines.

In order to qualify for tax relief, senior citizens must have had a household income of less than $14,000 in 1986, and must file a claim before Jan. 1, 1988.

NIMC salutes chaplains during Pastoral Care Week

During National Pastoral Care Week, Oct. 25-31, the administration and staff of Northern Illinois Medical Center salute their hospital chaplains, Rev. Vincent P. Fish and Rev. Perry Beaumont and those who are involved in lay clergy training at NIMC.

Sen. Paul Simon said, "Through their own selflessness and their dedication to the well being of others, the chaplains and care givers of this nation provide living witness to the power of goodness, mercy and love. They administer to our needs, but more than that, they call us to reflect the goodness and love that they provide."

Father Fish came to NIMC 11 years ago as a patient. He was told that he had had a heart attack and would need to give up his job, but what could have been tragic news for Fish became a chance to start over. "Being offered the job of hospital chaplain gave me something to hold on to during a time in which my lifestyle had to change," he said.

A writer and songwriter, he has made an impact on the life of NIMC by founding the Pastoral Care program and designing the beautiful Joseph Galvin Memorial Chapel. He works closely with the patients and their families, walks with them through times of trouble and loss.

"We are here to reach out to help anyone," he said. "If we can just listen and offer a few words of comfort and wisdom to our hospital family, then we are helping to improve the quality of life for those in need."

Even on Christmas Eve, Fish holds Mass for the patients on closed-circuit television, following a medley of Christmas carols sung by hospital employees. In addition to meeting with the patients and making regular rounds to visit the employees, Fish holds a memorial service for those who have lost loved ones.

Beaumont, who is manager of the Pastoral Care Dept., said that serving as chaplain includes service to patients, their families, the NIMC staff, and to the clergy, churches in the area and the general public.

"Easily half my pastoral time is involved with dealing with crisis situations when people are clearly faced with an unwelcome and unavoidable series of facts with which to cope," he said. "A lot is demanded in a crisis situation and in follow-up crisis, but I also find a lot of return."

Five churches have lay volunteers who participate in Pastoral Care at NIMC: St. Margaret Mary, Algonquin; St. John's, McHenry; First United Methodist, Crystal Lake; Resurrection, Woodstock; and Holy Family Episcopal, Lake Villa.

Under direction of the manager of Pastoral Care, the individuals in this position provide supportive lay pastoral care ministry to patients and their families. They, too, are deeply appreciated for the job that they do.

held on Friday, Nov. 20, at 5 p.m. in the Senior Center. The cost is $2 per person and a dish to pass. The meat, beverage and coffee is provided. Pre-registration, at least by telephone, is requested.

Throughout the week, many different groups meet at the Center for cards, crafts and good times. Poker is played on Wednesdays, bridge games are held Thursdays and pinocle is the fare for Fridays. Pre-registration is requested for bridge, so full tables can be scheduled. Call the Center at (312) 249-5710 for bridge registration.

If the War Between the States is a hobby, the second Tuesday of the month is of particular interest. At 7 p.m., the Civil War Round Table Discussion Group meets. Led by noted author T.S. Holmes, different topics are covered each month. On Nov. 3, the topic will be Marines in the Civil War. Call Mr. Holmes at (312) 623-1915 for details.

Christmas is a special time at the Senior Center. The halls are all decked out in time for the Open House, held on Sunday, Dec. 13. In addition to the Center, the Haines Farmhouse, home of the Waukegan Historical Society, is decorated in Victorian Christmas splendor. Join in for some Christmas cheer between noon and 5 p.m.

In addition to the Open House, the eighth annual Tour of Lights is another favorite Christmas tradition. Co-sponsored with the city of Waukegan, buses take people through the streets of Waukegan to enjoy the decorations and lights that enhance the season. The tour is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 22.

Details of these programs, as well as many more classes, trips and special events are included in the monthly newsletter, "Bowen Bylines." For a $3 annual subscription fee, the issues are mailed directly to ones home. In addition to Waukegan Park Dist. programs, items of interest throughout the community are also included.

So don't hibernate over the winter! Join everyone at the Bowen Park Lilac Cottage Senior Center for good times!

Marriott's Lady 'Fairest' in area

by GLORIA DAVIS

No production of "My Fair Lady" could make Alan J. Lerner and Frederick Loew prouder than the current version that just opened at the Marriott Lincolnshire Theater last week.

Director Dyanne Early and Producer Kary Walker have come up with a melodious show that retains all the sumptuous flavor of the blockbusting original, but there is a crisp freshness and a trimness that makes this the fastest moving, most enjoyable few hours on the Chicago area theatrical scene.

All those wonderful songs fill the air with Kevin Stites and his orchestra doing them much more than justice.

Shannon Cochran in the title role makes Eliza Doolittle a bit more lovable, piquant and just plain more "chuckleliscious" than most of her predecessors.

She does steal the show more than once, but Ray Frewen, who is one of the strongest Professor Higgins we have seen, never fully relinquishes center stage when the two are occupying it.

Frewen's Higgins, although still an unmitigated male chauvinist, is not as stuffy as in most productions. He seems to be playing the part with a twinkle in his eye even when he's being his most intolerant and narcissistic self.

These two lead actors reach "Top Gun" level in both the singing and acting categories again and again as the play progresses, yet they are real people.

James Harms' Colonel Pickering is suitably and often comically stodgy and Don Forston is full of mischievous rascality as this burly Alfred Doolittle gives one the feeling that he really doesn't want to "Get to the Church on time."

Just as he stopped the show with his rendition of "Stranger In Paradise" in "Kismet," Terry James does it again with "On the Street Where You Live."

The sets and costuming for the "Ascot" and "Embassy" scenes are a delight of resourcefulness in lieu of the theater-in-the-round confines.

The opening night reception following, retained the class of the show: mirrored tables, tastefully set with a single gardenia in a crystal bowl, shimmering candles, glistening fountains, and waiters and waitresses in black tie and tails passing around slender stemmed goblets of champagne.

Even the snobish Transylvanian ambassador would have been impressed with the strolling violinists and the gigantic mounds of artfully done confections filling a huge round table centered by a glistening ice sculpture of everyone's "Fair Lady."

Gospel Ranch plans weekend

The Gospel Ranch Church is planning an exciting fall weekend. On Saturday, Oct. 31, for kids ages four to 12, there will be Hallelujah Night, featuring "When Evil Comes", a one hour video presentation starring "Gospel Bill". On Sunday, at 6:30 p.m., a major presentation that examines the spiritual roots of contemporary music "Rock and Roll - A Search for God" will be shown on the newly acquired large screen video projection unit. Hallelujah Night begins at 6 p.m. Be sure to dress in Bible costumes and be creative; there will be prizes awarded. Games and refreshments will be included.

Gospel Bill is going to need all the help and protection he can have when he is faced with evil. Pastor Trotter preaches a powerful message on God's covenant promise of protection in "When Evil Comes". Dry Gulch County is invaded by an evil gunslinger, Lightning Lou Haynes, and a band of outlaws. While Haynes keeps the sheriff busy, the outlaws steal horses in Dry Gulch for resale to the U.S. Army. The cold-hearted thieves show no mercy in the quest for horses, stealing from rich and poor, young and old. Gospel Bill begins to investigate and appoints special deputies, Nicodemus and Elmer Barnes, for undercover work. In spite of their bumbling efforts, the deputies are successful in locating the outlaws' hideout, but Elmer is captured. When Gospel Bill moves in to rescue Elmer, Lightning Lou unveils a deadly surprise - the shack that holds Elmer is packed with dynamite.

Will the sheriff get Elmer out alive? Will Lightning Lou Haynes finally get the last laugh on Gospel Bill? Find out as you experience the whole story in a special one-hour video presentation. The evening will conclude with games and prizes at 8 p.m.

Sunday evening come out with the family to see

SPORTS BRIEFS

Rugged defense

Johnsburg's offense should not feel so bad when the Skyhawks review tapes of the 35-0 shacking in the season opener.

If the Rockets' defense post another shutout at Harvard Oct. 30, Richmond will become the seventh team in Illinois football history not to allow opponents to score a touchdown. The Rockets' last win, 31-0 over Hinsley, made it eight straight weeks without allowing a single point.

Friday finales

For those football fans hoping to catch a final peek at regular-season football, Oct. 30 offers no fewer than four critical games.

Grayslake will try to end Grant's playoff hopes at Grant while Wauconda attempts to do the same at Lake Zurich.

But perhaps the biggest game will be played in Chicago at St. Patrick. The Carmel Crusaders will be out for blood and a playoff berth if they can upset the East Suburban Catholic Conference leaders.

Grant, Lake Zurich and Carmel carry 3-3 records into the contests.

Warren and North Chicago fell by the wayside last week, dropping to 1-4. Although the Blue Devils and the Warhawks, along with Stevenson and Antioch, have outside chances to sneak in at 3-4, those chances are pretty dim.

Coming soon

Don't look now, football fans.

Basketball season is less than three weeks away. Nov. 2 is the starting date for girls' team practice while the boys will start Nov. 9.

Good start

Robert Akers, a native of Round Lake Beach, will always remember his first college play. The freshman intercepted a pass for the North Central College team on his first play. The football team finished 25-14. North Central is now 4-4 on the year. Akers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Akers.

Strong attendance

Lake County wrestling fans will be hard pressed to attend more wrestling regional and sectional in 1987 than they did last year. The Grant regional finished seventh in regional meets with $1,200 in revenue. At the sectional level, Lake Zurich's sectional finished fourth in attendance with 420 fans attending the meet, netting $1,200. The breakdown was published in the Illinois High School Assn.'s October issue of Illinois Interscholastic Wrestling.

Early starts

Football fans used to watching North Suburban Conference games start at 2 p.m. should mark on their calendar that the 1987 season will begin at 10 a.m. at Antioch at Niles North and the game at North Chicago will be played from 10 a.m. Antioch coach Steve Wapon said. The IHSAA mandated that games start at 10 a.m. to ensure that the season's playoff games could be played on a Friday night and which did not.

Catching touchdown pass

Grayslake's Shaun Mauritz catches 21-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Timm West. Defending for Bears on the play are Todd Kuklinski and Munesh Ajawani. Lake Zurich won the game, though, 20-12, spoiling Grayslake's Homecoming. Bears entertain Wauconda while Grayslake travels to Grant Oct. 30 in season finales for both Northwest Suburban Conference teams. — Photo by Steve Peterson.

Bears top Rams, playoffs still possible

One last hurdle looms before Lake Zurich's football team can start adding up points and hoping for a post-season playoff bid.

And for seven weeks this football season that hurdle did not seem so formidable. But when Wauconda beat Johnsburg last week, the Bulldogs may have earned the respect of the Bears, who face them Oct. 30 at Lake Zurich.

"They don't have anything to lose. Beating us would mean the whole season for them," Lake Zurich coach Wayne Kuklinski said.

The host Bears, though, are coming off a 20-12 win over Grayslake which ruined the Rams' Homecoming as well as their momentum of three straight wins.

The game was a tight one and momentum had swung to the hosts side when Lake Zurich led just 13-12 at the end of the third quarter.

But that's when Mike Baillie took over.

Baillie fielded a punt from Grayslake's Timm West at his own 12. He appeared to be stopped, but spun away from a Grayslake tackler. He (Continued on Page 35)

Antioch's seniors try for winning season

For Antioch's senior football players, the Oct. 31 game at Niles North means a chance to be a part of something that they have missed out on the last three years.

That is, being part of a winning football season.

"This is key for our seniors. They have never been on the winning side of the ledger," Antioch coach Steve Wapon said.

The seniors showed a Homecoming crowd at Antioch last week some offensive firepower they've been hiding in a 32-20 rout of Fenton. The win evened Antioch's slate at 4-4 heading into the season finale while Fenton stayed winless in eight games.

Running back David Wick will be leading the senior contingent into the game at Skokie. Wick will be hard-pressed to top his performance against the Bison, though. Wick scored three touchdowns, had two two-point conversions and had 243 yards in 28 carries, an 8.6 average.

"Wick had a very fine game," Wapon said.

The game was close until the third quarter, when the Sequoit offense answered the second-half bell and exploded for 24 points.

Antioch started the scoring with a 68-yard march in the first quarter. The key play was a reverse by James Keim good for 28 yards. An 11-yard touchdown pass from Jon DeBernardis to Brad Nauman gave Antioch a 6-0 lead. The same combination worked for a two-point conversion try, giving the Sequoits an 8-0 lead.

Fenton then tied the score in the second quarter, making it 8-8 at half-time.

The Sequoits came out firing in the second half. Taking their first drive from the Antioch 35, Wick's 38-yard run set up his nine-yard touchdown scamper. Wick then tackled on two more points for Antioch on a two-point conversion and the hosts were ahead to stay.

Antioch started the next time at its 18. Wick then bursted off tackle for 82 yards for a touchdown. For the third time, he went in for two points and Antioch led 32-8.

Fenton scored one touchdown in the third and fourth quarters.

As well as Wick played on offense, the defense was equally effective.

Fred Loucher recovered a fumble after Bill Letkey had made the initial hit. Letkey, for the day, had nine tackles and four assists.

Keim picked off a Fenton pass for an interception.

Stevenson, Warren shooting to end season on bright notes

What a difference one month can make. Just ask the Stevenson football team.

"A month ago, we were 1-4 and nobody gave us much of a chance to be 4-4. We started to play some juniors and the seniors have showed some great leadership," Stevenson coach Bill Mitz said after his Patriots defeated Warren 14-10.

The Stevenson win not only knocked Warren out of the playoff picture, but gave the Patriots a chance to complete the comeback and finish with a winning season when they host Mundelein Oct. 30.

For Warren, the close loss at home meant the Blue Devils' game at Fenton Oct. 30 will not be for a return trip to the state playoffs, but only for a winning season. Three of Warren's four losses have come in frustrating fashion.

"Stevenson is a lot better club than their record indicates. He (Mitz) has got some good-sized kids," Warren coach Reggie Hughes said.

Derek Shelton

For the fans who traveled to Gurnee from Prairie View and to watch the game in 30-degree temperatures, the most impressive aspect of the contest was defenses for both teams. Warren's defense forced four Patriot fumbles, keeping the Blue Devils in the game.

But it was Stevenson's Ryan Weinberg who dove and knocked a pass from Warren quarterback Derek Shelton in the final play of the game that preserved the win.

"It was just unbelievable," Mitz said of the Stevenson defense.

Warren's fourth fumble recovery, the second by Mike Wagner, had given Warren the ball at the Stevenson eight-yard-line. But Stevenson stopped three Warren rushes cold and on fourth down, Darrin Leith kicked a 18-yard field goal to give the hosts a 10-7 lead with 3:26 left in the game. Warren had originally planned to go for the touchdown at that juncture, but Shelton called a timeout and Leith booted the field goal.

Stevenson did not panic. Weinberg returned the kickoff to midfield and the Patriots started their game-winning touchdown drive. After two incomplete passes and a run, a critical Warren penalty for too many players on the field gave Stevenson a first down at the Warren 30.

"The kickoff return hurt us more than the penalty because it gave them good field position," Hughes said.

Just as Stevenson quarterback Jim Neary was about to be sacked for a loss on fourth down, he unleashed a pass to Tyrone Oliver, who caught it in heavy traffic at the Warren 11. Three plays later, Neary beat Warren's secondary for a TD and the Patriots led 13-10 with :55 seconds left.

Warren, hoping to save its playoff hopes with a last-minute drive, did not give up immediately.

Shelton completed to passes to bring the ball to the 17.

After an incomplete pass, Weinberg then gave Stevenson the win.

Stevenson's offense dominated in the early going. Late in the first quarter, after starting at its 24, the Patriots moved to the Warren 23. But a penalty and an incomplete pass forced a fourth-and-15 and a pass fell short.

Warren's Ken Woodard recovered a Stevenson fumble to give the Blue Devils the ball inside the Stevenson 10 in the second quarter. three plays later, Dave Sjong caught an eight-yard toss from Shelton for a 7-0 Warren lead with 4:03 left in the first half.

Stevenson immediately tied the score. Marching 77 yards in eight plays, the Pats made it 7-7 when Chris Holder tallied from two yards out.

Warren had two excellent chances in the third quarter to take charge. Both both times, Warren was forced to try a field goal and Leith missed.

"It's tough to give up that many opportunities," Hughes said.

And in the end, that's what gave Stevenson its third straight win.

Foster tops 1,000 yards, Carmel aims for playoff bid

Ask the Illinois High School Assn. when the football playoffs begin and the answer will be Nov. 5.

Ask the Carmel Corsairs the same question and the answer will be different. For all practical purposes, Carmel's "playoffs" begin Oct. 30 when the Corsairs travel to Chicago to battle East Suburban Catholic Conference leader St. Patrick in an 8 p.m. game.

"This is our playoff. The kids have worked long and hard for this. We now control our own fate," Carmel coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

The Corsairs come into the contest with a 5-3 record overall, 4-2 in the ESCC. Carmel, which lost three straight after winning the season opener, needs a win over St. Patrick to clinch the school's first-ever playoff berth.

Carmel is coming off one of its best offensive showings of the year in a 27-0 win last week at Niles Notre Dame.

St. Patrick stubbed its toe for the first time this season in a 14-9 loss at the hands of St. Viator.

Fitzgibbons knows what it will take for the Corsairs to hand St. Patrick its second straight upset loss.

"We'll have to play a perfect game to beat them," the coach said.

Against Niles, Donell Foster led the way for the Corsairs. The senior running back topped the 1,000 yard mark in yards gained for the season with 195 in 30 carries. He also scored Carmel's first three touchdowns.

His first came when he broke open on a 73 yard run in the first quarter. His second TD came on a three-yard scamper in the second quarter to give the visitors a 14-0 halftime lead.

In the fourth quarter, Foster topped off a Carmel drive with a two-yard run for a 21-0 lead.

Steve May scored Carmel's fourth touchdown on a four-yard run later in the fourth quarter.

Carmel, which had been hurt by penalties in previous contests, played an improved game in that department. The Corsairs were hit with the penalty flag for only 40 yards.

Fitzgibbons praised the work of the defense, which has now surrendered just one touchdown in the last 12 quarters.

Quarterback Thadd Sutter completed three of nine passes for 32 yards.

Grant runners qualify for sectionals

Grant's girls cross country team placed fifth in the Crystal Lake regional meet Saturday and advanced runners to compete in the Oct. 31 sectional meet at Niles West.

Barrington handily won the meet with 42 points. Woodstock edged McHenry, 74-78, for second place. Crystal Lake South was fourth with 103 points with the Bulldogs next with 112.

Cindy Edwards led the way for Grant with a strong fourth-place finish. Her time at the Veterans Acres course was 14:07.

Nicole Czechowski, Grant's second runner, showed a great deal of courage in revoering from a fall midway through the race and still finishing 23d. She was followed by Lori Homan in 28th, Jenny Loring in 30th, Janice Selle in 36th. Rounding out Grant's squad was Debbie Selle in 56th and Pam Short in 62d.

This marked the second straight year that Grant's girls team has advanced to sectionals.

Among other Northwest Suburban Conference teams competing at Crystal Lake, Round Lake was ninth with 265 points and Johnsbury and Wauconda also competed.

The Grant boys did not fare as well. Mike Russo, however, ran a strong race and finished seventh and qualified for sectionals.

Wauconda notches first win, will face Lake Zurich next

For seven weeks, Wauconda football team's defense had in general turned in solid performances. But the problem was there was no wins to show for it.

Until Saturday, that is. Thanks to a 86-yard kickoff return by Matt Smuth, Wauconda recorded its first win of the season with a 7-6 win over Johnsbury. The win gave Wauconda a 1-7 record, 1-5 in the Northwest Suburban Conference. With the celebration over, the Bulldogs are now concentrating on Lake Zurich. The Bulldogs will be hoping to erase the Bears' chances for post-season play Oct. 30.

"I was happy for the kids because they deserved the win. They have worked hard all year. The defense really shined," Wauconda coach Fred Loffredo said.

As for the Bulldogs' next foe, Loffredo said the Bears use the pass and rush with equal effectiveness.

"Kuklinski (Lake Zurich quarterback Todd) is a good overall field general. He has good runners and good blockers," Loffredo said.

The visiting Skyhawks scored first in the second quarter. Junior quarterback Erik Pulk directed the team on a 65-yard drive. Pulk capped off the drive with a 10-yard pass to Bill Leisner. With kicker Erik Mellum hurt, the Skyhawks had to go for two points but Pulk's pass fell short.

Then Smyth went to work. Fielding the ball at the Wauconda 14, Smyth burst through the wedge for an 86-yard kickoff return. Mark Connelly's extra point gave Wauconda a 7-6 lead with about seven minutes left in the half.

"We had six people who had a shot at him," Johnsbury coach Mike Roberts said.

After that, the defense took over.

Tom Weber, Dan Richards and Eric Becker all picked off Johnsbury passes to thwart JHS drives.

Offensively, C. J. Kasperzyk led the rushing attack with nine carries for 35 yards. Smyth had 20 yards in 11 carries.

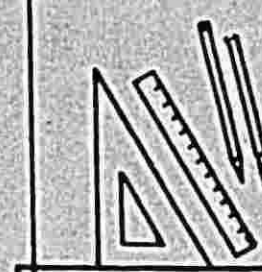

Johnsbury, now 2-6 overall and 1-5 in the NWSC, faces league champion Marian Central Oct. 31 at Johnsbury.

"We have nothing to lose. They've already won the conference," Roberts said.

Bears win

then outraced Grayslake's Rob Dalbo to the sidelines and a couple of blocks later, had scored an 82-yard touchdown run that gave the Bears the winning 20-12 margin with just over eight minutes left.

"We used to set up a wall for him early in the season, but now everybody just picks a man and blocks him," Kuklinski said.

Grayslake had the ball back three times after that, but did not score. A pass from West to Shaun Mauritz fell short on the game's last play.

Another specialist, kicker Marc Leonartowicz, also played a big role in the Lake Zurich win. The senior booted field goals of 42 and 33 yards to give the Bears a 6-0 lead in the first quarter.

"That was Leonartowicz' most consistent day," Kuklinski said.

The coach expressed concern that his offense stalled in the second half.

"I wish we were more consistent in the second half," Kuklinski said.

The offenses' only touchdown against Grayslake's defense came in the middle of the second quarter. The Bears, starting at their own 33, marched 77 yards in nine plays. A 25-yard pass from quarterback Todd Kuklinski to Tyler Malewicki and a 29-yard pass as well as a pass by halfback Chris Boucher to Eric Walker for 29 yards were big plays.

After Boucher's pass, Kuklinski ran to the left side for a seven-yard touchdown run. The extra point gave Lake Zurich its biggest lead, 13-0, with 8:30 left in the first half.

Grayslake used an effective passing attack to trim the lead to just one point at the end of the third quarter.

"He did a good job passing in the second half," Jahnke said.

Bulldogs chain Panthers

The Round Lake Panthers will try to end the season on an up note on Friday as they play at Marengo in their last conference game of the season. After beating Johnsbury 26-0 two weeks ago, the tables were turned and the Panthers were blanked 28-0 by the Grant Bulldogs on Friday.

The Panther's air attack was stifled, as senior quarterback Todd Collis threw for about 40 yards in the first half.

The Bulldog defense constantly harassed Collis in the game. Bulldog's sacked Collis three times in the Panther's first two possessions, setting the tone of the game.

With 1:59 left in the first quarter, Grant quarterback Jim McGeever threw a 22-yard pass to Brian Hagy, who left Panther defenders confused all evening, and scored for a 7-0 lead.

On Round Lake's third possession of the game, they decided to stay with the running game and leave the air attack on the ground. Starting out from their own 24 yard line, Woods was handed the ball the following three plays, bringing the ball out to the Bulldog 40. The Panthers brought the ball down to the 25 yard line, but failed on a fourth and one try.

Bulldogs quickly took over and ran the ball into the endzone, ending a 14 play scoring drive.

Round Lake on the following possession, fumbled on a complete pass, giving the Bulldogs four minutes and another opportunity for a score.

Grant started out on the Panther 32 yard line and with the help of Round Lake penalties, Grant made it down to the 8 yard line with 12 seconds left in the half.

Grant rounded out the game by scoring their final touchdown in the third quarter, on a 11 yard run by Dave Essler.
